Dedication

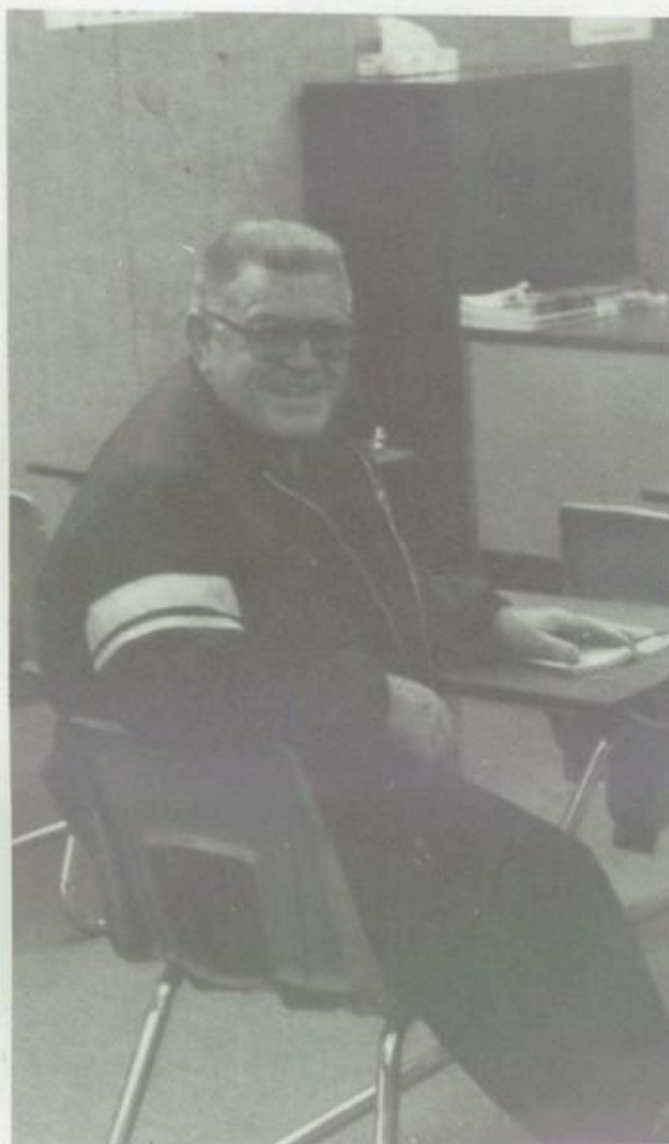

The 1981 Oracle is dedicated to Mr. Fred Stone, an O.H.S. faculty member for 15 years. Mr. Stone has enriched many students' lives by teaching such subjects as geography and English, coaching football, and specializing in improving students' reading skills. Mr. Stone is also the advisor of the Azteca Club here at O.H.S., and is the president of the Faculty Club.

Mr. Stone is well-liked by students and fellow faculty members both, and is thought of as a very friendly person. In the classroom he is a strong disciplinarian, but spices his classes up with his sense of humor and makes them interesting and enjoyable.

Our dedicee really cares about his students and they care about him in return. Many of his former students come back to visit him year after year and many students think of Mr. Stone as their favorite teacher.

He is a kind man and his kindness encompasses more than just his fellow humans. He raises cattle, owns llamas, Saint Bernards, ducks, and horses. He refuses to let anyone hunt on his property, thereby protecting the wildlife in his vicinity.

The qualities Fred Stone shows as a humorous, friendly, and warm person, have earned him a special place in our yearbook. The staff of the 1981 Oracle respectfully dedicates this yearbook to him.

Oracle Queen

Carla Olsen, this year's Oracle Queen, thinks it's an honor to represent the yearbook at OHS by being Oracle Queen. She entered the contest in order to get people interested in buying Oracles.

Carla, a junior, likes to play badminton and used to be in gymnastics. She is also involved in Student Legislature and songleading.

Carla's court, or the runners-up, are Torey Cobbarubia, a senior; Jenny Corder, a sophomore; and Theresa Pizzella, a freshman.

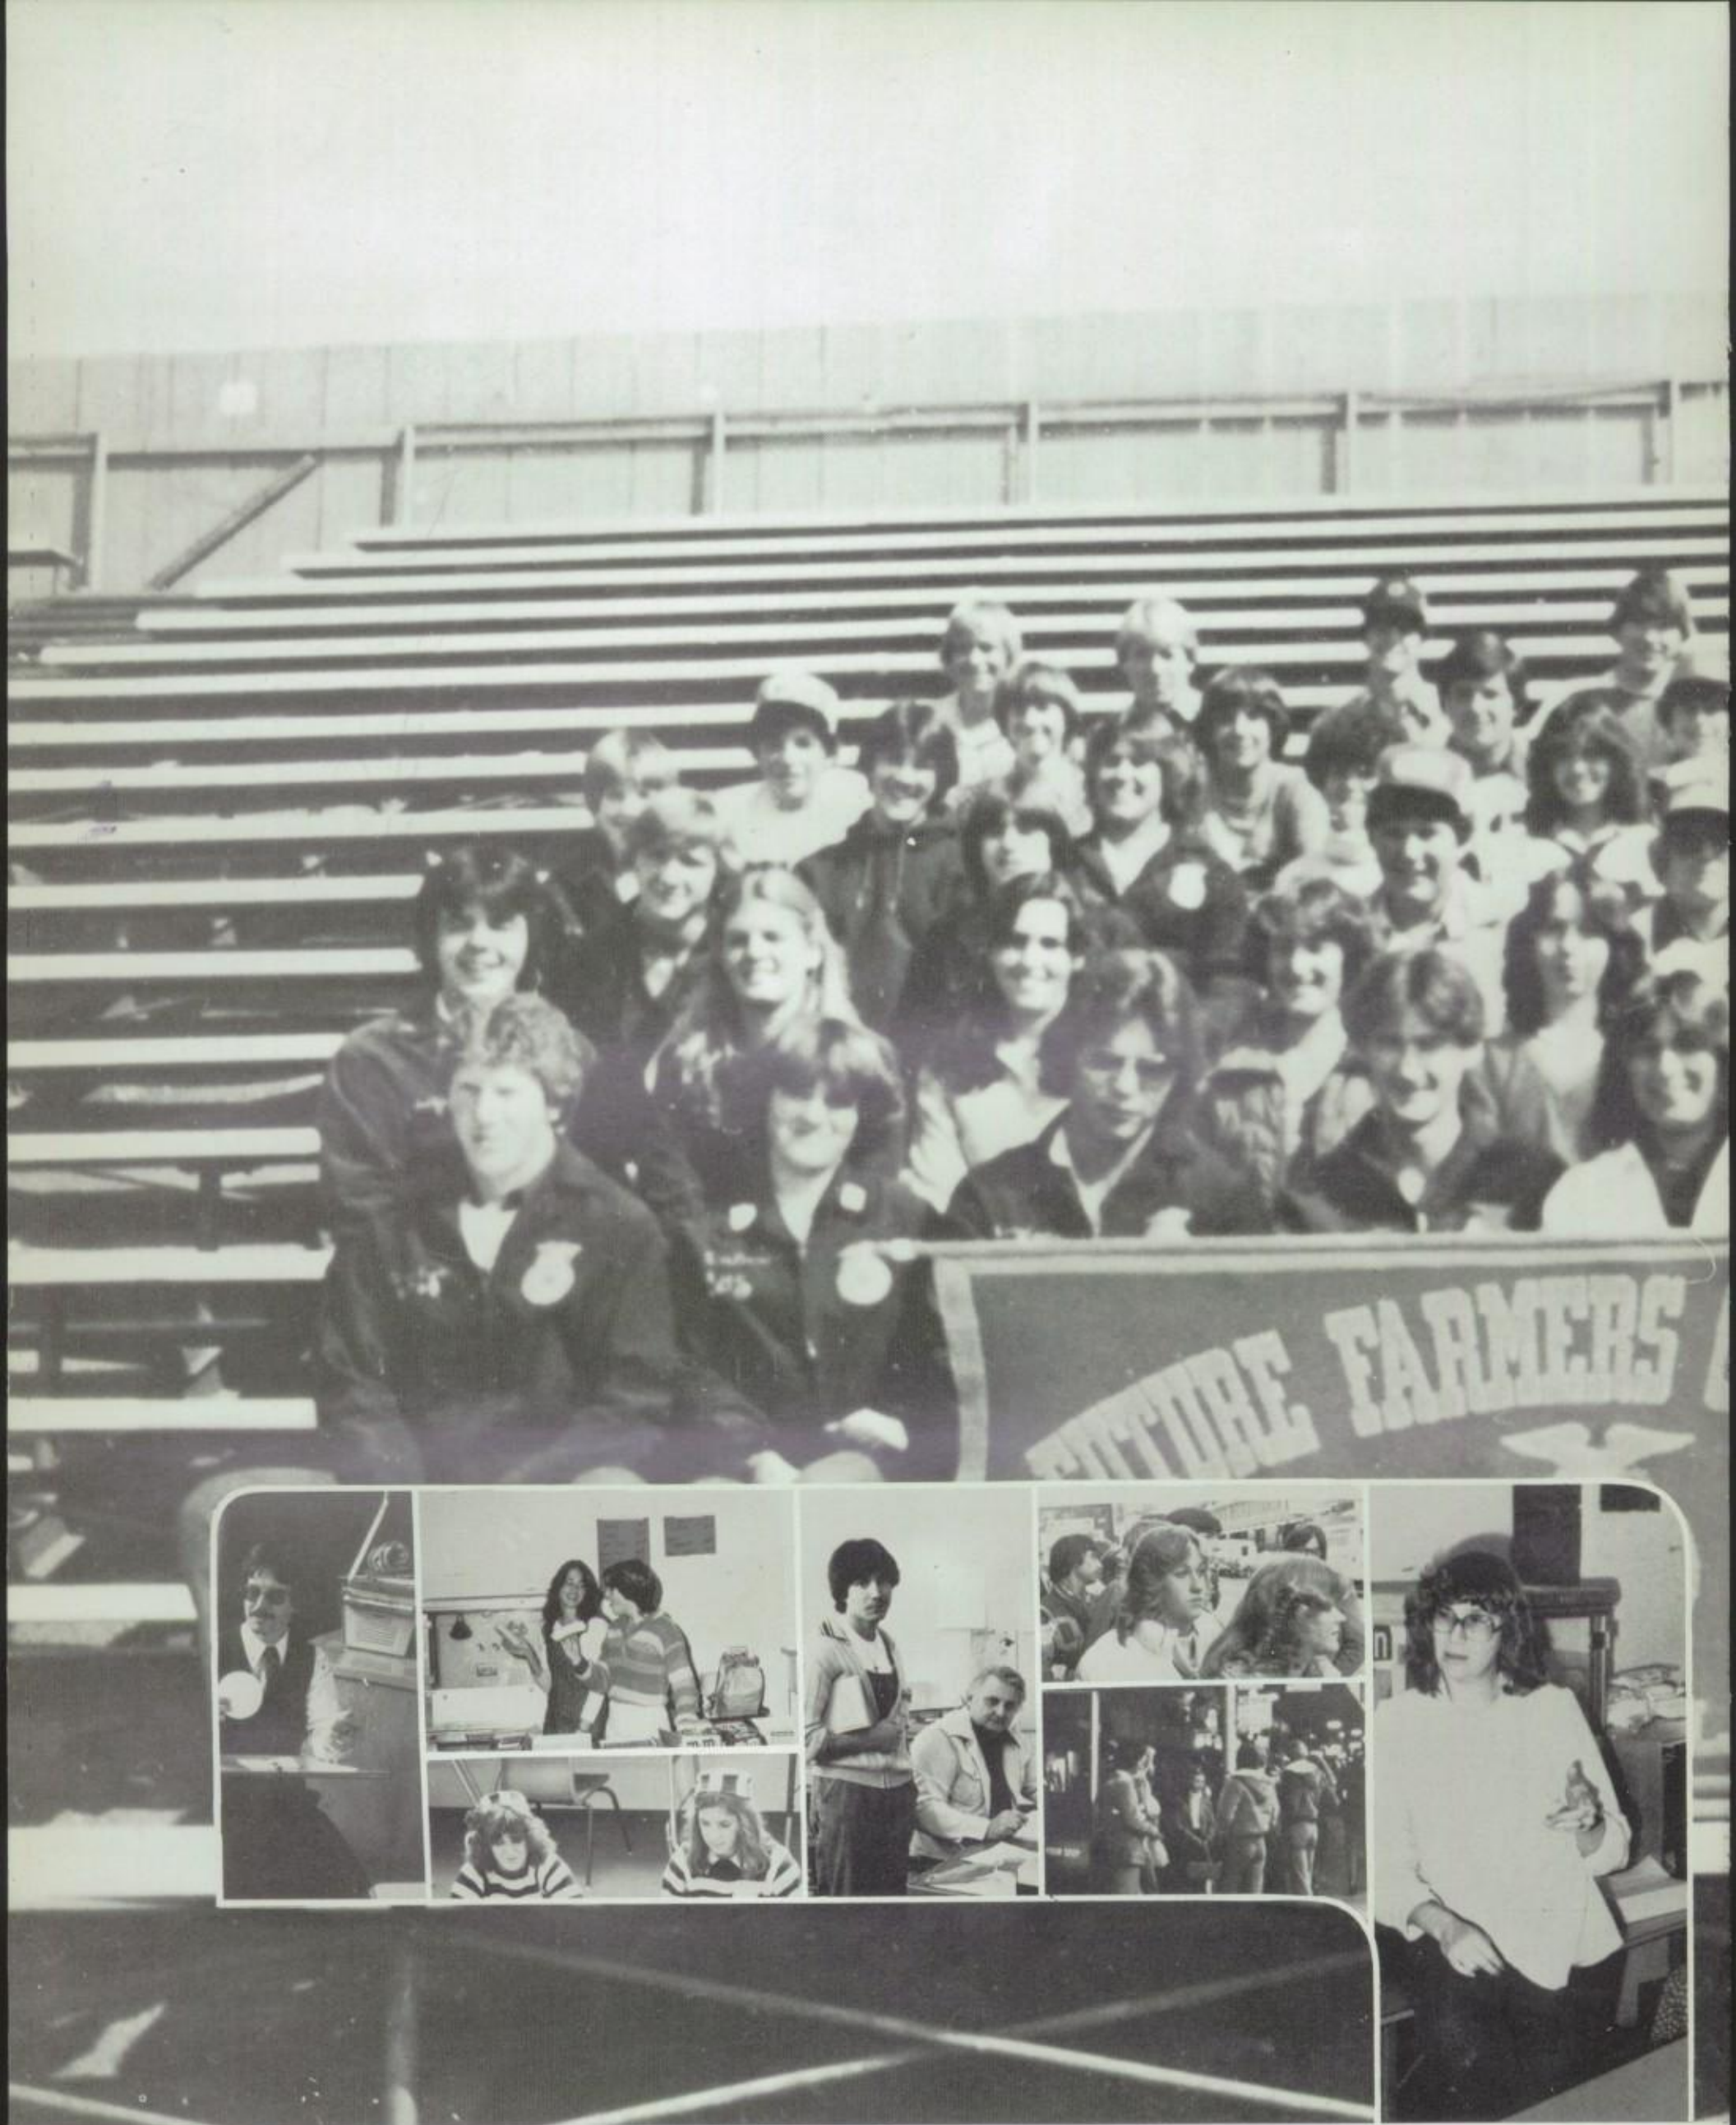

Torey enjoys skiing, and plans to graduate and further her education, majoring in business. She became involved in the Oracle Queen contest because she thought it would be a fun opportunity and she thought it offered a chance to put more spirit into the school.

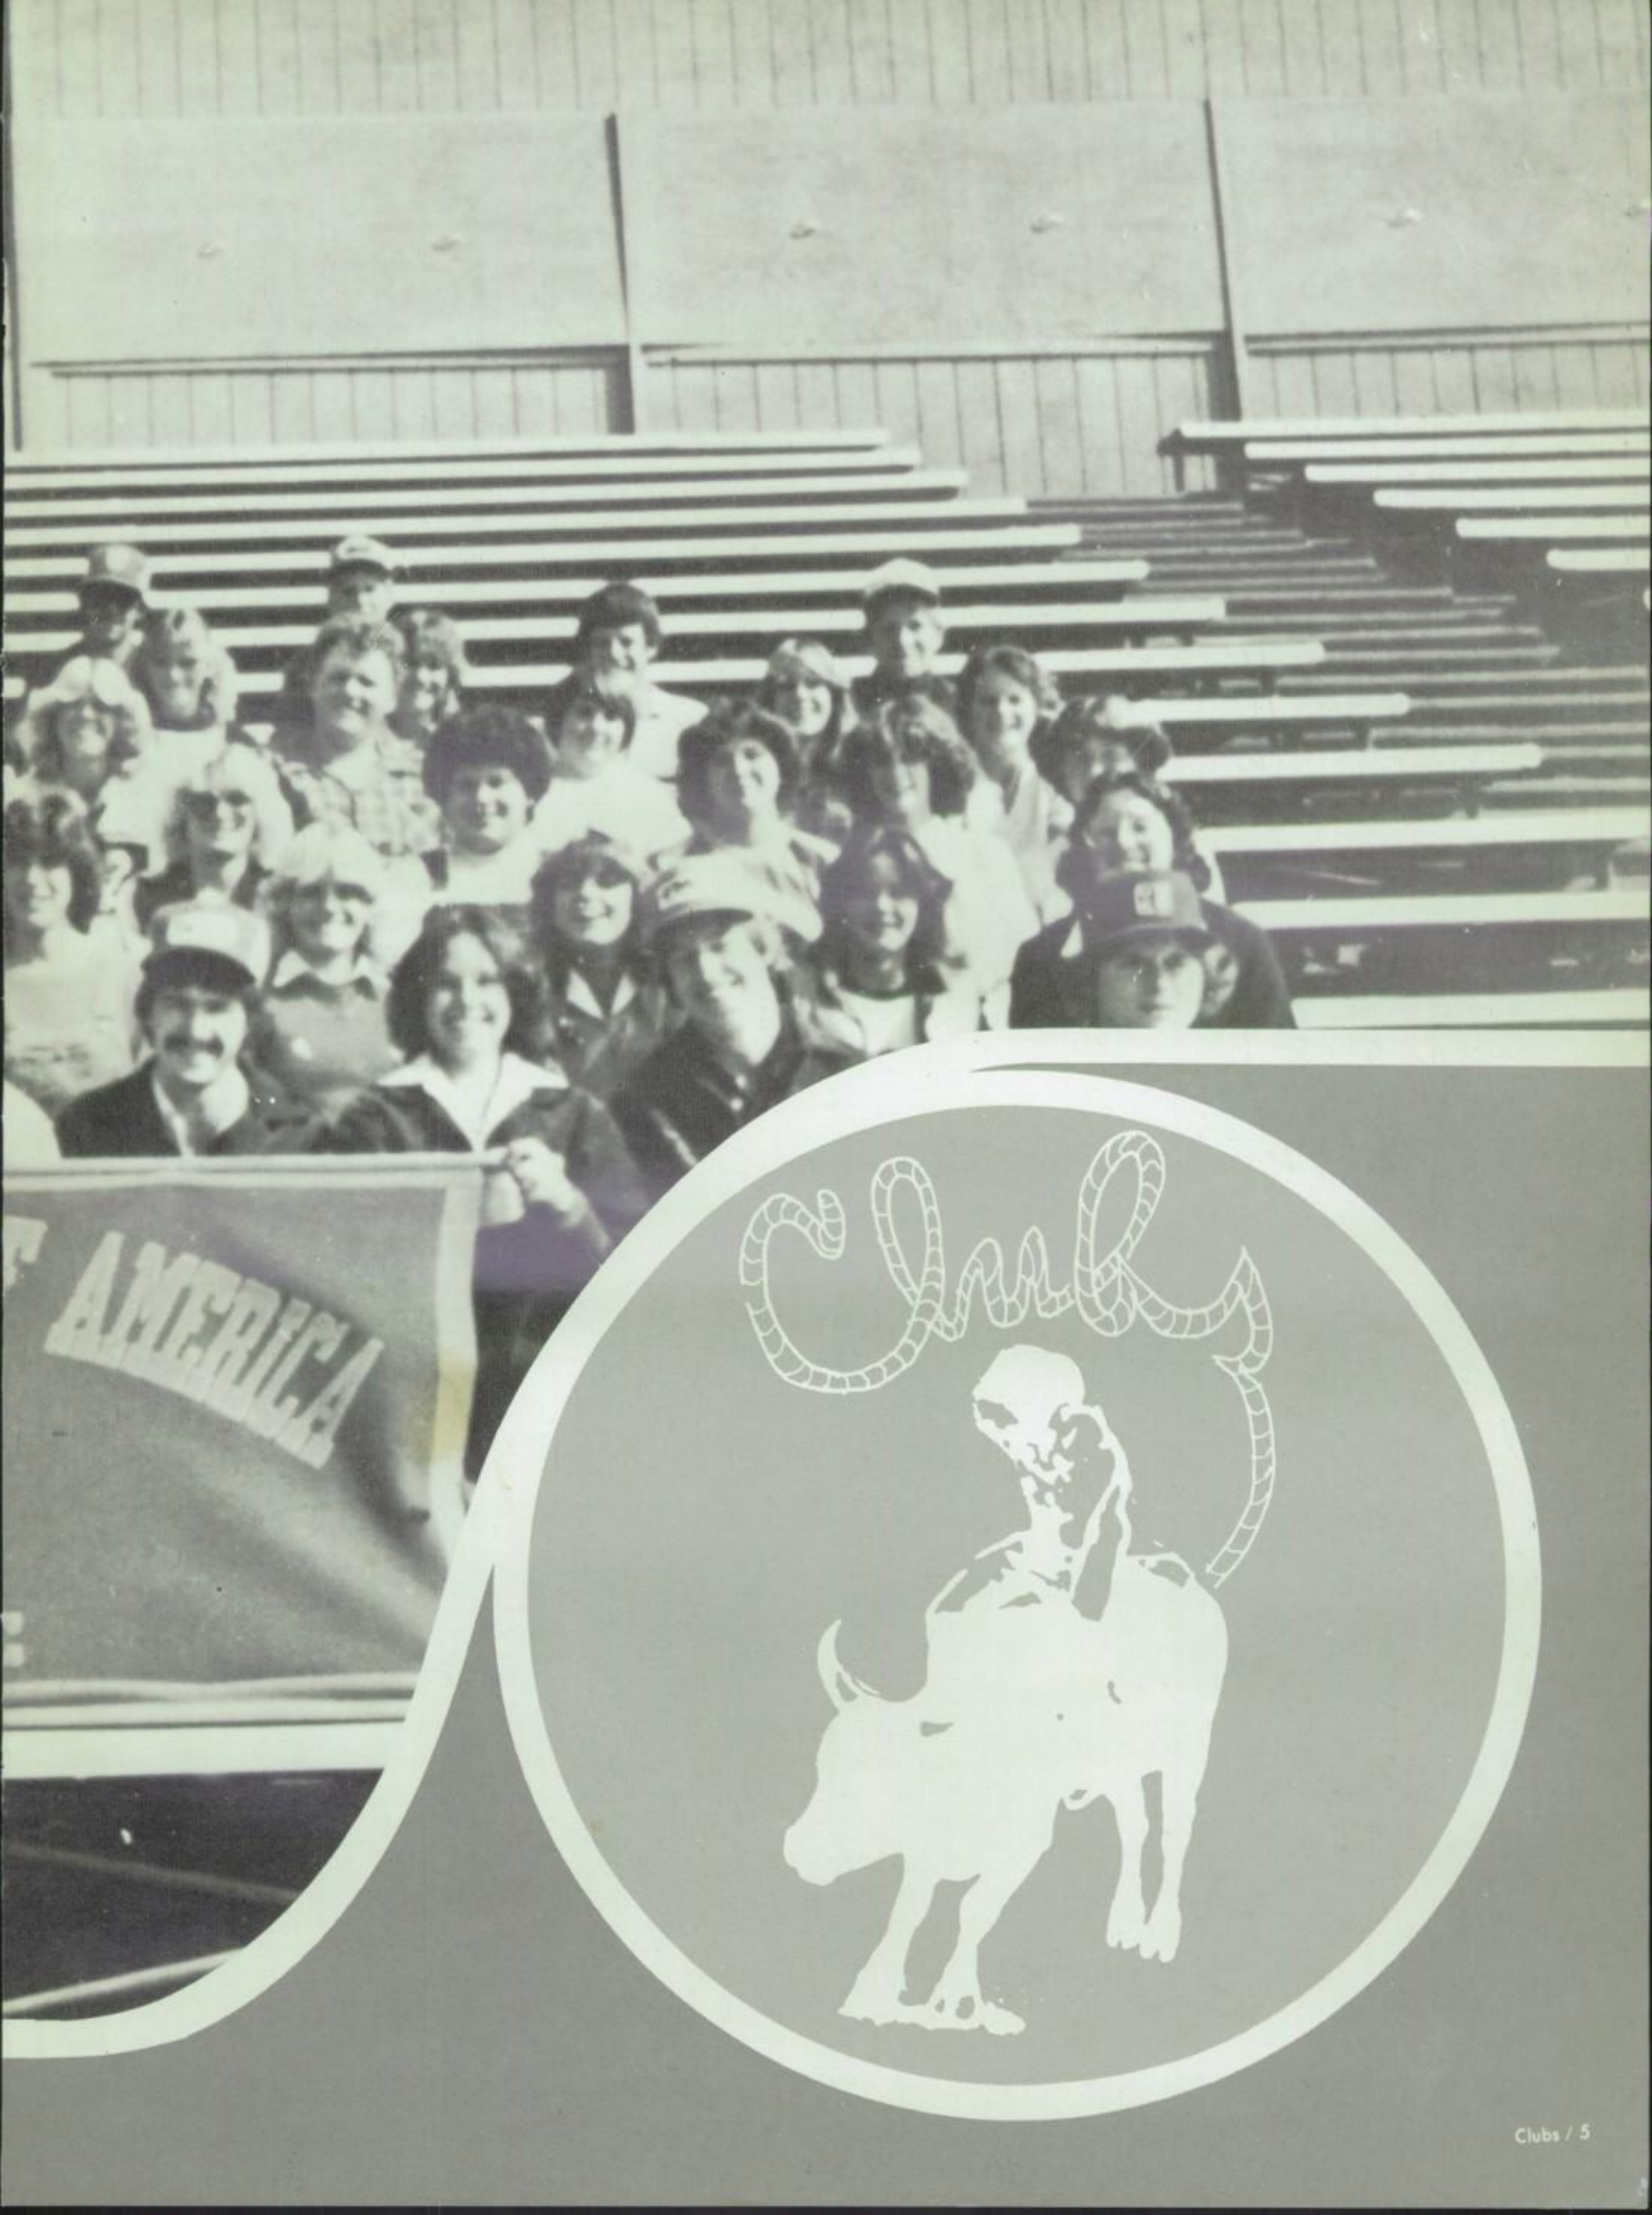

Jenny thought she would make a good sophomore representative and because she thought it would be a fun experience. She enjoys tennis and softball and is involved in cheerleading and student legislature. Jenny also plans to further her education.

Theresa feels that the Oracle is a big part of OHS and people will always have the Oracle to remember their years at OHS. Theresa thinks it's an honor to be part of the Oracle Queen competition and was glad she was involved in it.

Who Made This Yearbook?

This year's Oracle staff made some obvious changes. The most difficult and obvious change they made was turning the book from a Fall edition to a Spring edition. They also changed their advisor and their publishing company. So this year's Yearbook staff had to make many adjustments. Lorraine Headrick took over the job as advisor this year, but she had to let Janice Rocha take care of things while she was acquainting herself with her newborn baby boy. With only 3 students returning from last year's Yearbook staff it was hard to keep things organized. The editors for this year's book were: Terri McDonald, editor; Valerie Rimert, layout editor; Pam Snider, assistant editor; Gene Lieb, photo editor; Pam Carlson, copy editor; Shelly Evans, Business Manager; and Evonna Pafford, Senior Section editor. These editors couldn't have done this job without the help of all the other people involved. A special thanks goes to: Donna Murray, Gary Donnell, Kevin Benziger, Janice Rocha, and Lorraine Headrick.

The freshmen were greeted at the first rally with an original nickname, "Coneheads."

To make the best of it, the class of '84 went along with it all, by having such sayings as, "Coneheads are number one," "I'm a conehead and proud of it," and "Freshmen Coneheads rule," put on their red and gold baseball jerseys.

The class officers who were elected at the first of the year, were Aileen Argentini, President, Liisa Hiltunen, Vice President, and Carrie Glover as Secretary. They all did their best serving in their offices.

The freshmen spirit leaders, eight "rowdy, loudmouthed girls", were voted on, out of 23, or more, hopefuls at the beginning of the year.

Football Yell Leaders were: Aileen

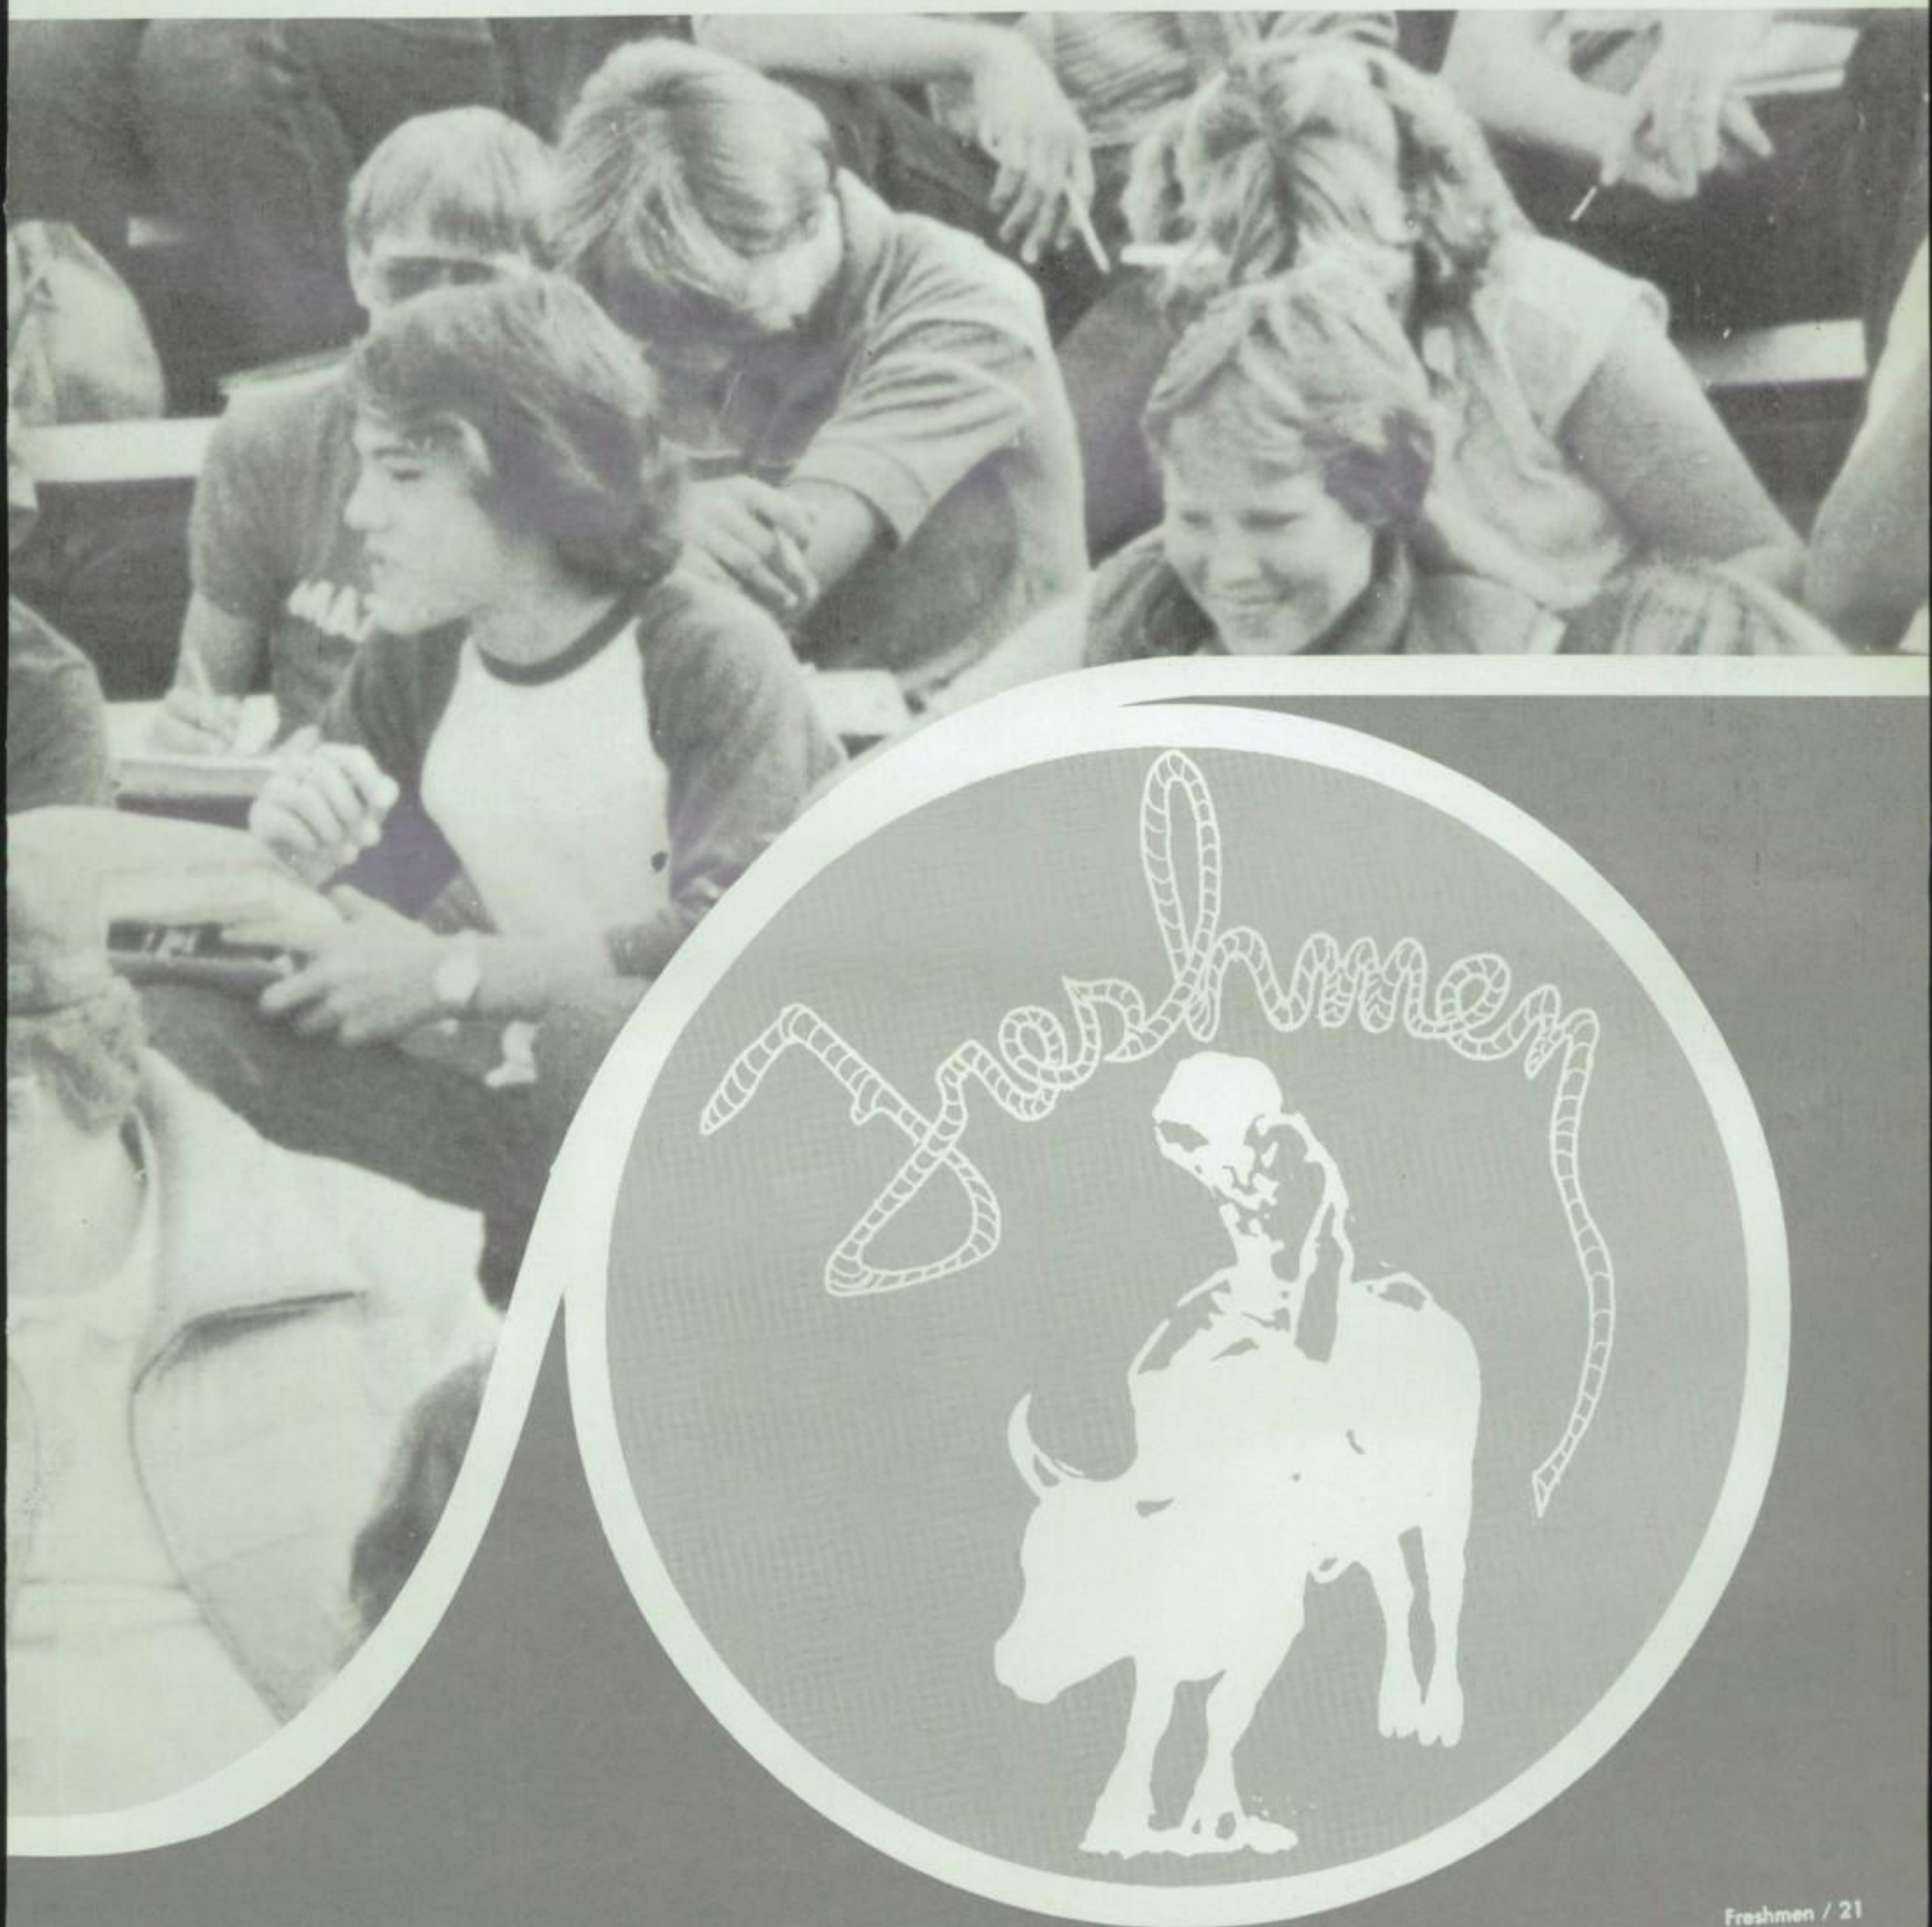

Argenteni, Shirley Estep, Ann Rocha, and Isabell Wallimen. They only had a few days before their first game to put it all together, but they did their best.

Debbie Baize, Julie Love, Yolonda Moore, and Theresa Pizzella were the Basketball Cheerleaders. However, they had more time to order uniforms, get cheers together, and become as organized as freshmen can get.

The freshmen attendance to the "Pony Football games was good" and gave the cheerleaders something to yell about.

Not to mention the overall attendance to the basketball games which at times wasn't too many over a crowd of 10 people.

Clubs are a large part of Oakdale High School life. They offered students extra opportunities to get together with their friends, and in the process, benefit either themselves, the student body, or the community, and in some cases all three.

Of the 18 clubs at OHS there are seven which give members the chance to learn while participating. These are: Future Farmers of America, Financial Managers, Future Business Leaders of America, Drama Club, Future Homemakers of America, "J" Club, and Medical Arts.

As the name suggests the F.F.A. teaches its members about agriculture, but not that alone. This organization also encourages public speaking ability, knowledge of parliamentary procedure, and competition as well as co-operation.

Financial Managers learn to handle money correctly by selling tickets at football, basketball, and other games. They also learn the value of work as they are paid for the hours they put in.

The F.B.L.A. is concerned with teaching its members how they can succeed in business careers, and also with showing them the value of community responsibility.

The Drama Club gives its members the opportunity to learn the pleasures and pressures of being involved in a play, and this year especially, to learn how to produce a play.

F.H.A. devotes its time to making sure its members know how to prepare a balanced meal and run a household (no simple task), among other activities.

The "J" or Journey Club gives its members the chance to broaden their horizons by taking trips to San Francisco to attend live theater performed by professionals.

Medical Arts, as the name implies, conveys to its members the basics of the medical field; whether they are interested in dentistry or neurosurgery, in this club they can find out what it will take to get where they want to go.

The remaining clubs, among them Ski Club, Student Legislature, Student Council Judicial Committee, C.S.F., Block O, Key Club, offer everything from doughnuts to moguls.

The Ski Club is for those people at OHS who enjoy sliding around on snow-covered slopes with long sticks of wood on their feet. There are many ski enthusiasts around here, so the club is never short of members.

Student Legislature and Student Council are concerned with representing the student body in that entity known as Student Government.

The Judicial Committee is a part of the above two mentioned organizations. Its members count the ballots whenever an election is to take place and carry out various other duties.

Who Represents You in Student Legislature

Student Legislature is a club comprised of all different types of students. The purpose of Student Legislature is to give all groups of people equal representation in student government. The meetings are run by Student Body President Sherry Herriage with the help of their advisor Norm Antinetti.

Student Legislature consists of all Student Body Officers, Club Presidents, Spirit Leaders, Class Representatives, and Class Officers. Student Legislature runs all Homecoming activities and hosts the Spring Formal to raise money for activities and assemblies. Student Legislature has the final word on all decisions made by and for the students, it is probably the most powerful club on campus.

They Count the Ballots and They Run the Student Body

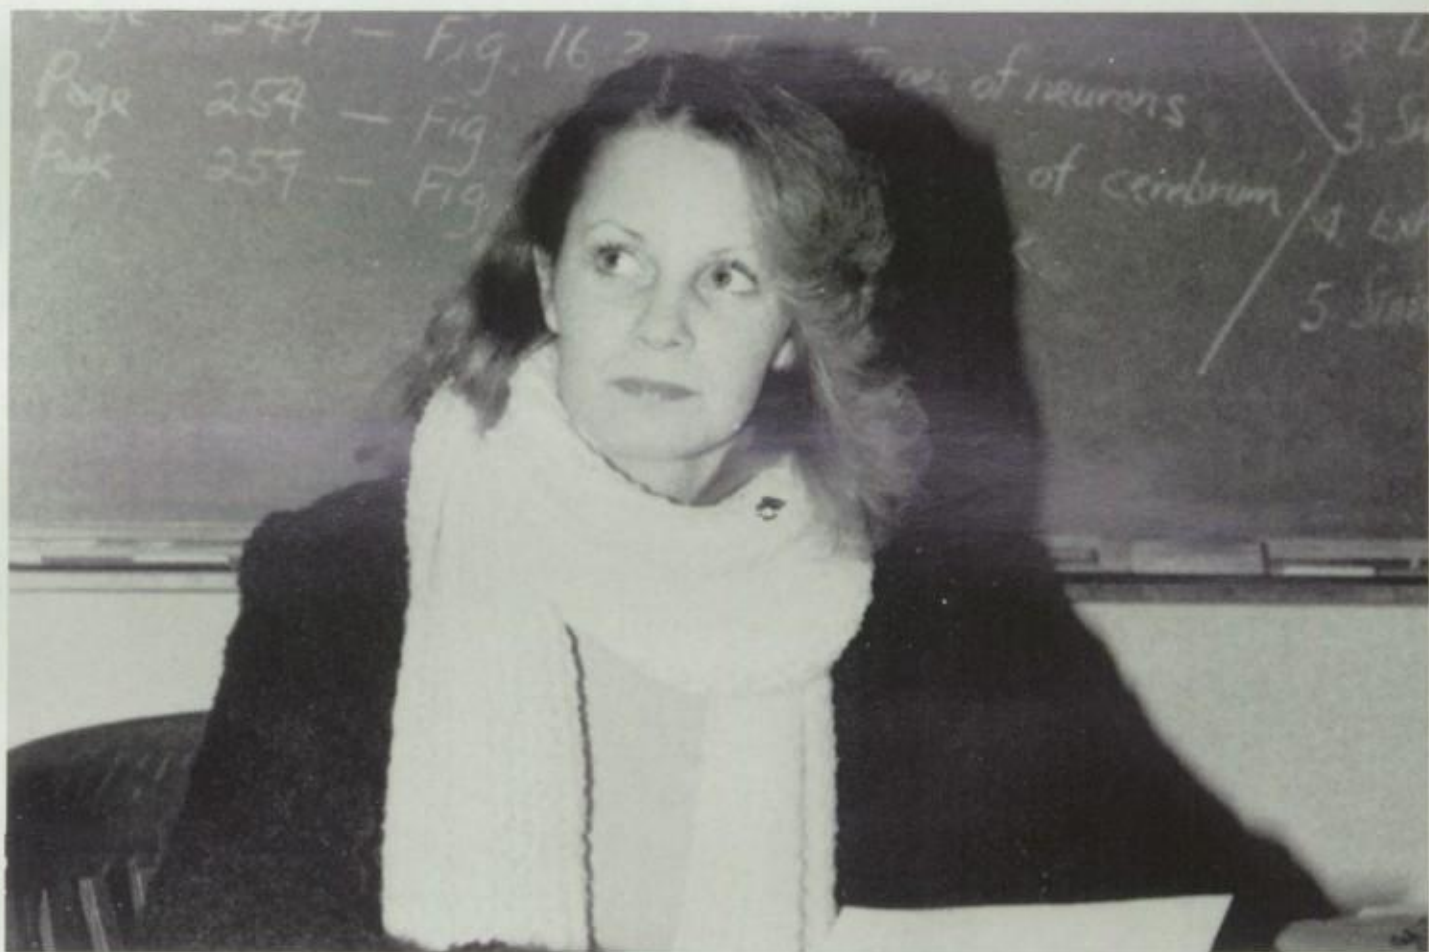

The Judicial Committee is in charge of counting ballots and revising amendments to the school Constitution. This year's Chief Justice is senior Sharon Ehling.

Judicial Committee has changed the out-dated dress code for next year and is responsible for counting the votes for the 1982 student body officers. Members of the 1981 Judicial Committee are: Cindy Doyle, John Nash, Darcy Nixon, Dave Rapinchuk, Tom Reed, Cindy Rivera, Kim Shamp, and Teresa Tope.

Student Council is in charge of all decisions made by the Student Body, and it also governs over Student Legislature. This club consists of the student body officers and the class officers. This year's Student Body Officers are: President Sherry Dupriest-Herriage, Vice-President Kristi Brown, Secretary Laina Corder, Chief Justice Sharon Ehling, and Rally Commissioners Terri McDonald and Kirk Rimert.

CSF — A Little Brains and a lot of Hard Work

A little hard work is all it takes to be in CSF (California Scholarship Federation). It requires at least a "B" average and satisfactory citizenship in all classes. Mr. Violini is the advisor and the officers are: President, Kim Shamp; Vice-President, Kevin Brunk and Secretary, Anne McKeon. Group activities include a trip to San Francisco and a pending "Ditch Day" in the future. Fundraisers this year have been a newspaper drive and a mobile bake sale. The outstanding students who are able to make the requirements for CSF for at least four semesters are considered life members.

Learning About Agriculture

The Future Farmers of America is a large and thriving part of Oakdale High School, and has been for many years. This year the organization's president was Mike Mendes. He and the other officers: Ryan Barner, vice-president; Cindy Logan, secretary; Doug Campbell, reporter; Tom Reed, treasurer; Sam Parks, sentinel; Jackie Parks, scrapbook editor; Tammy Blevins, photographer; and Deanne Dias, chaplain did a superb job in 1981.

Thanks to these hardworking officers and the members of the club, the F.F.A. was very visible this year. During F.F.A. week, the group held contests for everything from greased pig to a $1.98 Beauty Contest. As in past years, the group participated in judging projects, the Country Fair, the State Fair, Junior Cow Palace, and many other activities. Through these activities, the club's members gain experience in public speaking, parliamentary procedure, and, of course, agriculture. Members manage their own projects, keeping track of all the money they spend and receive. They use their projects in competition with fellow members. These competitions culminate in awards banquet at the F.E.S. hall, where trophies, scholarships, ribbons, and other awards are distributed to outstanding F.F.A.'ers.

Block "O": The Combining of Athletes

Block "O" is designed to reward persons who participate in Oakdale High's Athletic programs, by asking them to join together in a club. This club includes all athletes, male or female, golfer or runningback; they are all considered equal.

To be eligible you must have earned 60 points. An athlete can receive all 60 points automatically by receiving a varsity block. Otherwise, points must be added up by blocking, participating in a sport, or being on a championship team. This year's advisor is Mr. Rick Jones, who is also a math teacher and the Varsity Baseball coach. Mr. Jones enjoys all types of sports and is proud to be the advisor of Block "O."

Block "O" raises money all year by running concession stands and by hosting many zany activities. During Football Homecoming, they entered a float in the competition. During Basketball Homecoming, they hosted the annual Donkey Basketball game between the faculty and the students. This money is spent at the end of the year for the Block "O" barbecue.

Skiers and Shooters Have a Fun Year!

The Trap Club is headed by Mr. McMahon, and expert trapshooter himself. Every year, he organizes a group of young men and women who are interested in shooting. They meet at least once a month for a shoot against other schools who wish to participate. They shoot at a distance of 25 yards and a 16 yard handicap. Oakdale is considered to have an excellent trap club.

The Ski Club was brought into existence mostly to provide interested students with a chance for fun on the slopes. The club has been a successful part of OHS for many years, and according to Advisor Diane Foreman, it's members have always been thought of as a "nice, friendly, bunch, willing to work hard at selling candy in order to have fun." Ms. Foreman further states that, "due to bad weather during the ski season, the popular Ski Club didn't do too much skiing this year." When snow finally did fall on the ski slopes, the club had difficulties getting a trip together. The president, Brent Vaughan, and his brother and vice president, Lance Vaughan, tried to organize trips, but the members failed to cooperate speedily and the trips were cancelled. The members attempted to retaliate by impeaching Brent but their attempts were thwarted when both of them didn't show up for their own impeachment. Though the club suffered this controversy, we trust that it will come back next year as the amiable group we have always known.

FBLA: A Look at the Business World

FBLA stands for Future Business Leaders of America. This club, with the help of advisor Ms. Foreman, is designed to help students gain aptitude for the business world. The President, Sheri Shepherd, and the other members of the club, are trying to get valuable experience so they may excel in business related jobs.

Financial Managers work for the school, they sell tickets for various activities here at school. This club is designed to help students learn, but the best part is they get paid for it. Mrs. Murray, who works in the business office, is in charge of this club and with the help of President Brent Vaughan they run an efficient club.

Learning How To Act Right

The Drama Club was a busy group this year. Not only did they produce and perform an All-School play, "As you like it", but they turned room 22 into a theatre.

The members and their advisor, Allen Oksen, occupied themselves with such tasks as painting the room, building flats, and installing lighting equipment until the room was ready for the production. As all this went on, those who had parts in the play rehearsed and practiced their roles until they felt they were ready for the production. As all this went on, those who had parts in the play rehearsed and practiced their roles until they felt they were ready to perform comedy.

Thanks to this industrious club and its ambitious advisor, Oakdale High School now had a theatre of its own. We wish the club every success!

Just What is "J" Club All About?

The "J" Club stands for "Journey." The Journey Club was founded by Eugene Conrotto two years ago. The club's purpose is to help finance theater trips to San Francisco for Oakdale High School students. According to Mr. Conrotto, "Theater is great exposure."

The club is free enterprise in action. Mr. Conrotto likes to see kids work for their own good, so he set up a program whereby the students could earn money toward the trips by selling Reese's Peanut Butter Cups and Christmas tree ornaments.

The club went to San Francisco to attend three performances at the American Conservatory Theater: students attended two performances of "Much Ado About Nothing" and one performance of "A Christmas Carol." A trip to Oregon to the Shakespeare Festival was planned, but Mr. Conrotto suffered a back and hip problem, and the trip was cancelled.

Although the Journey Club has only existed for two years, it has proved to be a valuable part of OHS.

Oakdale High School began a program in 1948 called F.H.A. — Future Homemakers of America. This group has strong values which have existed from its inception. Among the things the group finds commendable are: service, responsibility, justice, fairness, civic duty, the family unit, being good neighbors, and abiding by the law.

The advisors of this group are Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Reeves. They guide their group through many varied activities and try to instill in them the values of the club.

The officers during the first semester of this year were: A'Dawn Hannah, president; Rebecca Zahn, vice-president; Rhonda Bench, secretary; Jennifer Graham, treasurer, and reporter. The members plan and participate in luncheons for holidays, such as Christmas, Halloween and Thanksgiving. The advisor for the Munch-a-Bunch club is Mr. Thrasher. You don't have to pay any dues to be in this club, but you can only be in it if you are in Mr. Thrasher's Biology II class.

Key Club

The Key Club, a high school extension of the Kiwanians, a community service club has been here at OHS for many years. It once operated in conjunction with the Keyettes, a similar club for girls, but now the clubs have merged into one.

The president of the Key Club this year was Brent Vaughan. The vice-president was Robert Kenyon, and David Rapinchuk was secretary.

The club's purpose is service. They met in Leslie Wellbaum's room, giving up their lunches to plan ways to help others. They also met with their sponsors, the Kiwanians, for breakfast on certain mornings.

Oakdale High Students Play Doctor

Medical Arts is designed to help students gain knowledge of the Medical field by letting them get first-hand experience during school hours. Students are sent to work in various medical businesses to help them to understand what a job in the health field would be like.

Scholarships are also available to these students to help them pay the high price of education. These students are often pursuing a job as a nurse or doctor and this club is designed for them.

Boys' / and Girls' State Requires Leadership

Each year seven junior girls and seven junior boys are selected as candidates for Girls' and Boys' State. They are selected according to the following standards: academic achievement, citizenship, ability to get along with others, athletic ability, and leadership.

Two alternates were selected for each delegate. They were as follows David Rapinchuck, Robert Kenyon, Kim Shamp and Cheryl Hofmann.

Asilomar Busts Out!

Each year eight juniors are selected to represent Oakdale High School at the Junior Leadership Conference at Asilomar, a conference center on the Monterey Peninsula. To qualify for this honor, the students must have maintained a "B" average and good citizenship, and they should possess leadership qualities.

This year's junior Asilomar delegates are "Connolly's Convicts," led, as the name suggests, by Diana Connolly. The other "convicts" are: Joanne Peros, Anne McKeon, Cheryl Hofmann, Kim Shamp, Pam Stahl, Colleen Hawks and Becky Wright.

These girls will go to the conference in order to run for an office. The silly costumes and names help delegates from other schools to recognize and remember each delegation. The conference has a mixed atmosphere of competition and comradery, and is both exciting and tiring. The newly elected officers are informed of their positions on the last morning and they then participate in running the next conference.

The delegates OHS sent to Asilomar last year came back winners of the office of Publicity Chairman and have spent much time helping to put together the conference. These dedicated seniors are: Roxanne Ratliff, Sherry DuPriest-Herriage, Joy Wright, Lauri Rippe, Shelly Ichord, Evonna Pafford, Kristi Brown, and Pam Carlson.

The activities at OHS certainly made the 1980-1981 school year much more eventful; but they went beyond that, they made the year more enjoyable.

How dull the year would have seemed without the basketball and football cheerleaders and songleaders yelling out their cheers. These girls practiced their routines for hours after school, just in order to help keep the spirits of the spectators and team members from lagging during those tense moments.

What would half time have been without those dedicated musicians, the band? Merely time to go to the snack shack. However, they and the flag team, letter girls, drill team and majorettes made half-time a time to be proud of yet another part of our school.

The after game dances gave the student body a chance to have a good time, hear some good music, and dance; all for a reasonable price. They went over well and gave students a relaxing break after a busy week.

Rallies were, as ever, opportunities for all sorts of good things. First, we got out of class for a period. As if that weren't enough, the rallies gave students laughter, music and spirit. Quite a package.

The choir members practiced and practiced this year, and it paid off at the successful Christmas and Spring concerts. They were enjoyable events, heartily commended by all who were present.

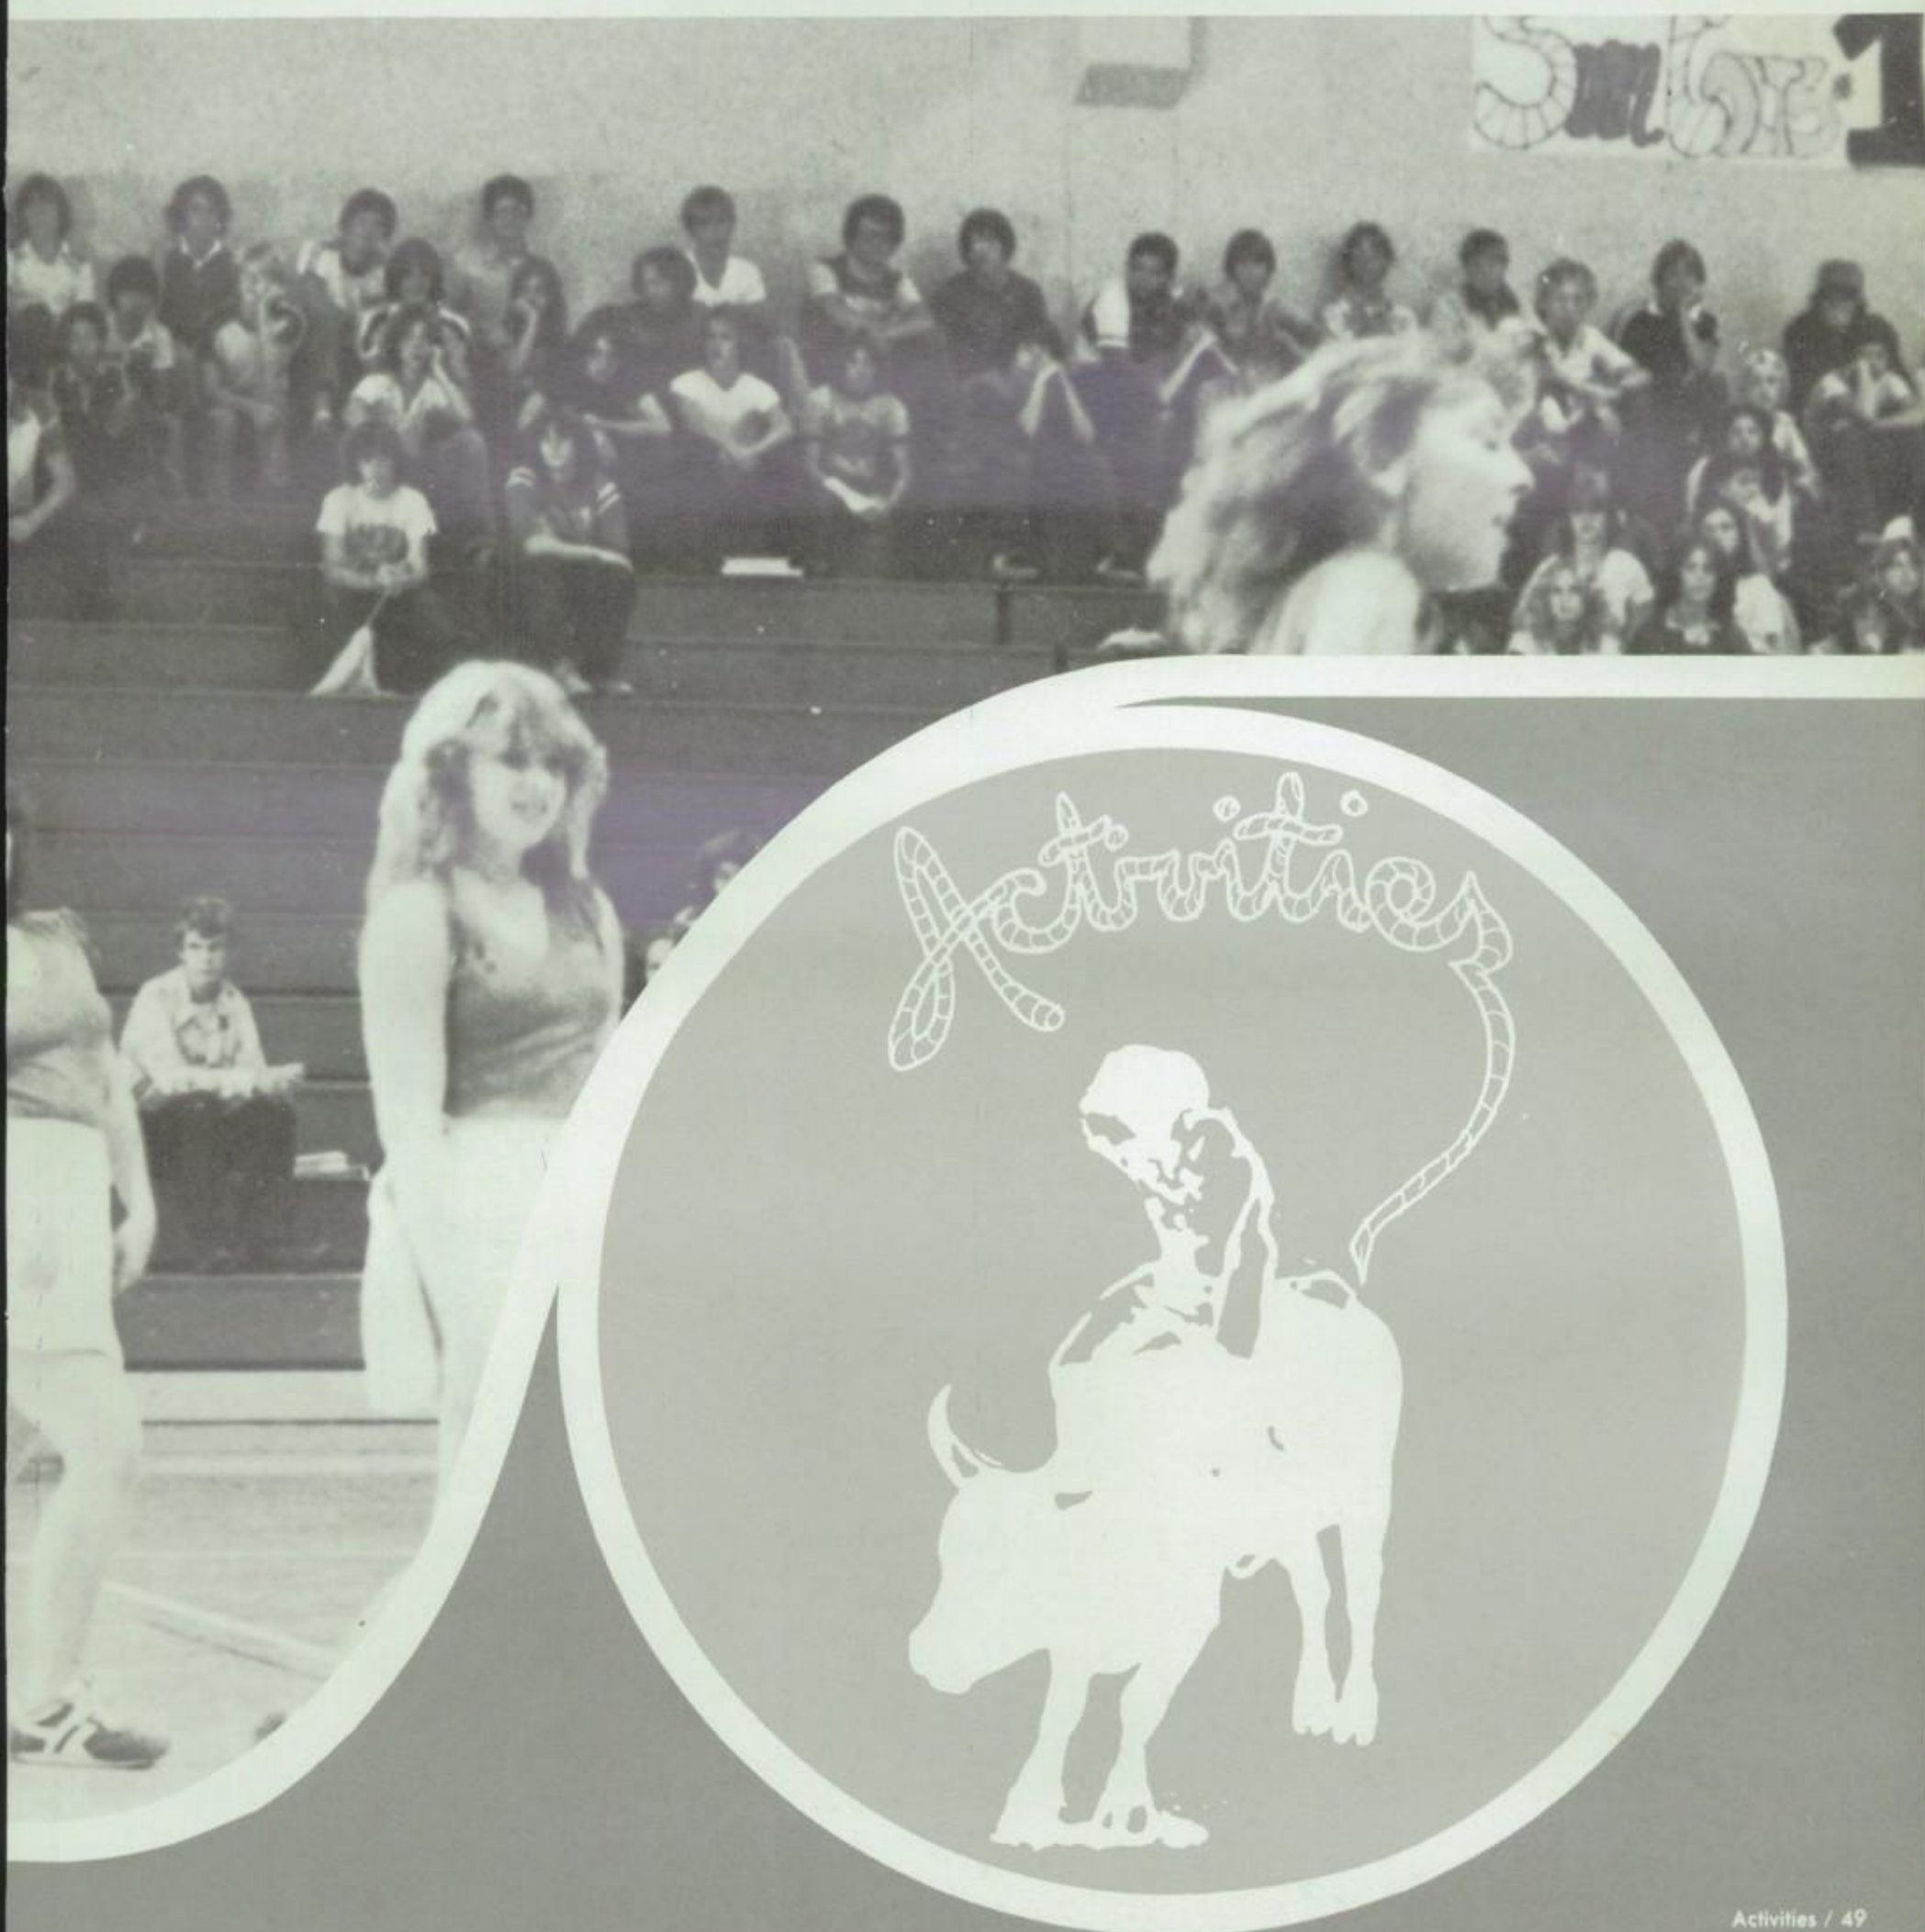

Halloween and Christmas were fun, the former for the silly costumes many students wore, the latter for the bliss of vacation.

The formal this year was a special event in many student's lives, just as it has always been. (After all it isn't every day that a girl sees her boyfriend in a tuxedo and the boys don't often see their girlfriends in formal dresses.

Most of all, though, no one could ever forget our two eventful Homecoming weeks this past year. They were both exhilarating, fun, and, of course, full of spirit.

This school year was a very active and interesting one. We on the year-book staff would like to thank sincerely the administrators, teachers and students who made all of the aforementioned activities possible. There were many not mentioned here, but those were nonetheless interesting and can be read throughout this book.

Mustang Band Brings Music to O.H.S.

The band has really been active this year. They participated in the Waterford Western Heritage Day Parade and in the Riverbank Christmas Parade. In the Waterford Parade the band received a first place trophy. The band also received a first place trophy in the Riverbank Parade.

The band also livened up the rallies with rousing renditions of "Beer, Beer," "The Fight Song," and the Alma Mater. Their contributions were very welcome and often times band members could be heard playing after the rallies for small groups of people who danced out of the gym to the peppy music.

Though the band was smaller this year, they still showed their school spirit at the games and rallies. Their music helped to get everybody into the school spirit and cheer their team on to win!

Oakdale Lion's Club Sponsors Speech Contests While Halftime Participants Enthuse!

The Lions Clubs sponsored speech contest for all and any high school students interested. The students based their speeches on the topic; "My World — My Answer." Mrs. Ledbetter, the speech teacher, did an excellent job of advising and coaching.

Participants in this year's contests were; Robert Hutton, Terri McDonald, Theresa Pizzella, and Mary Lynn Wrye. Robert spoke on nuclear energy, Terri talked about the education system, Theresa Pizzella on alcoholism, and Mary Lynn on Americanism. Mary Lynn Wrye was the winner of the Waterford contest and Terri McDonald won at the Oakdale contest. We'd like to congratulate them and wish them good luck on any further ventures.

The band auxiliaries have been really active this year. They participated in the Riverbank Christmas Parade and the Waterford Western Heritage Day Parade. In the Waterford parade the auxiliaries received $100 for their performance. In the Riverbank parade the flag team and the majorette both received first — place trophies. The drill team won a second-place ribbon.

The flag team was outstanding this year and really looked sharp. With their new flags, they really added color to the band. After a long week of practice, they were ready for the half-time show.

The letter girl's added style to the half-time show. After a week of practicing their dance routines, the girls showed their spirit at the game.

Though there was only one majorette this year she did a fantastic job. No half-time show would have been complete without the tosses and whirls of our majorette.

The Drill Team was missed at Oakdale High for a few years, but with the help of the following girls, the team is getting it started again.

Dress Code Goes Bananas at O.H.S.!

Dress-up day, held during Homecoming week, along with Halloween presented the campus with some outlandish and stranger-than-usual characters. The students and teachers let their hair down and showed their true selves. "As You Like It"

This year's all scholl play, directed by Mr. Oksen, is Shakespeare's "As You Like It." This play is an extremely comical one that everyone seems to enjoy. It's basically about four couples and their comical romances in the forest of Arden.

The cast consists of Kristi Brown, Dan Douglas, Tim Firch, Robert Kenyon, Anne McKeon, Darcy Nixon, Kim Shamp, Brent Vaughan, and Lance Vaughan. At the time of our deadline, the play was not yet done, but the cast was spending a great deal of time practicing. We wish them luck, and we know they're do well.

Assemblies Offer Change of Pace

Assemblies bring together all students to experience new things and to meet people from different cultures and ways of life. Assemblies are used to entertain and inform and they are certainly a learning experience.

This year we saw an "up and coming" English duet on one of their first appearances in their American tour. There was also both of the Homecoming Queen Assemblies that introduced the senior girls that represented a club during Homecoming Week. The assemblies also introduced athletes, yearbook, and candidates for office. We also saw a mime perform excellently as he dazzled and amazed his audience. This year's assemblies truly offered a change of pace.

"Paint Your Wagon"

This year's musical, "Paint Your Wagon," was a western comedy about a mining camp. The main characters were portrayed by Brian Long, Kristi Brown, Ivan Frey, Colleen Hawks, and Cindy Reed. Dancing was a big part of this year's musical, and the dancers carried it off quite well. Among the hoofers in the cast were: Sherry Herriage and Darcy Nixon and there was a special ballet sequence with Dannen Water, Dan Cummins.

Produced and directed by the hardworking Mr. Dahlin; the play was a tribute to the many hours that he and the cast put into the rehearsals.

52 Freed Americans Come Home

On January 20, 1981, the American Hostages that were held in Iran returned home after spending 444 days in captivity. Their trip ended after boarding a plane in Iran, flying to Algeria where they boarded a U.S. jet and flew to Wiesbaden West Germany. They spent a week in Wiesbaden for recovery and relaxation, catching up on the latest political and social news. At the top of the headlines, was the election of the 40th president of the United States, Ronald Reagan, and the shooting of former Beatle, John Lennon. The hostages were released minutes after President Reagan took office and relieved former President Carter of his last four days spent in sleepless nights.

The hostages were thus labeled "returnees" and came home to a celebration of yellow ribbons and happy tears. They heard the frequent playing of Tony Orlando's "Tie A Yellow Ribbon 'Round the Old Oak Tree."

The response in Oakdale was not different. Yellow ribbons tied around Oakdale's genuine oak trees was a common sight. Also included were yellow ribbons around street signs, flag poles, door knobs and a variety of other objects. A sign portraying humorous comments about Iran and the Ayatollah Khomeini was posted at a local gas station.

All America celebrated, cried, and sighed in relief as the 52 Americans set foot on home soil, rejoining their fellow countrymen.

The Sophomore class has been an extremely spirited class. At rallies they cheer for the school as well as their own class, they attend the dances as well as the games, and seem to enjoy themselves. The friendships within the class are close but not overpowering.

The academics are taken very seriously by the class of "83" and it seems to come easily. With test scores below the California average they were still an improvement over previous scores.

Athletically this is one of the best overall classes in the Valley. Hurt somewhat by a temporary loss of interest in sports, the Football team had a rough season. The female athletes are many and talented. They spread themselves evenly through all the sports, the majority of the athletes compete in more than just one sport.

Spiritleaders try out in large amounts from this class. Although only a few actually make it, the others sit in the stands and help to promote spirit. Sophomore cheerleaders often get discouraged because more people show up for the varsity game, but this class didn't. They held up their heads, yelled to the best of their ability, and worked with the fans that they did have.

Choosing who would be the class officers was a tough decision to make, because they had so many good people to choose from. The final decision was; for Secretary Tammy Blevins, Vice-President Cindy Reed, President Lori Crum. The Sophomore class representatives attended the Student Legislature meetings and firmly voiced their opinions.

The class was a spirited one, and packed with leaders. These students can be expected to run an efficient, academically sound, and an athletically strong school in the years to come.

Cheering for a Winner

The Football Cheerleaders and songleaders performed their unique tasks with much enthusiasm and expertise this year. They brought their spirit, talent, and their smiles to the rallies and football games. They encouraged us to root on our team with award-winning skill.

The cheerleaders utilized their penchant for catchy chants and loud shouting to great advantages in crowd involvement. Their use of the P.A. system at the games was greeted with mixed reviews, but it was well-intentioned.

The songleaders showed off their flair for brisk choreography to many types of music, including such diverse songs as "Betty Lou" and the title song from the movie FAME.

Cheering many cold nights, with few fans would discourage some, but this group of dedicated young ladies gave it their all. They seemed to be inspired by the lack of rooters and seemed to give a little more of themselves than expected.

Members of the cheering squad included; Sabrina Kochevar, Cindy Reed, Kelly Taylor, and Jennifer Nixon. Although later in the season Kelly Taylor had to leave the squad. They executed their moves with near perfection, to entertain the rooters.

The 2 mascots added not only spirit but also a touch of humor; Mortimer (alias Ruth Ann Johnson and Jessica Whitney) pranced with a different type of trot this year. Ruth Ann and Jessica gave cheerleading an added dimension this year. It was evident from both squads that they really cared.

Rallies

The rallies of the 1980-81 school year were packed with music, humor, spirit and controversy. The Rally Commissioners, Terri McDonald and Kirk Rimert worked to reinstate a few neglected rally traditions.

Terri and Kirk put the OHS band back into the rallies by asking them to play songs at every rally, and by having them play the Alma Mater at the end of every rally. More music was included in routines performed by the songleaders and also a routine by the letter girls.

The humor was provided by a variety of sources, there were class competitions, skits and "Coneheads". Class competitions included anything from blindfolded Football to apple passing with the neck. Skits included anything from a spoof on Junior Miss to "How to operate a Bass-O-Matic." The "Coneheads" (alias the Freshmen) were the subject of humor and controversy. Students who were teased didn't find the situation too funny. While the student body giggled, the administration complained to Terri and Kirk about their "excesses." The "excesses" were curbed and the rallies continued.

Spirit was wrapped up in all these things; music, humor, and controversy. We cheered for the band, we cheered for the the skits, we cheered for our team, and we cheered for our school.

Spirit

Homecoming prevailed this year as fun, exciting and traditional. Most of the Student Body was active and full of spirit.

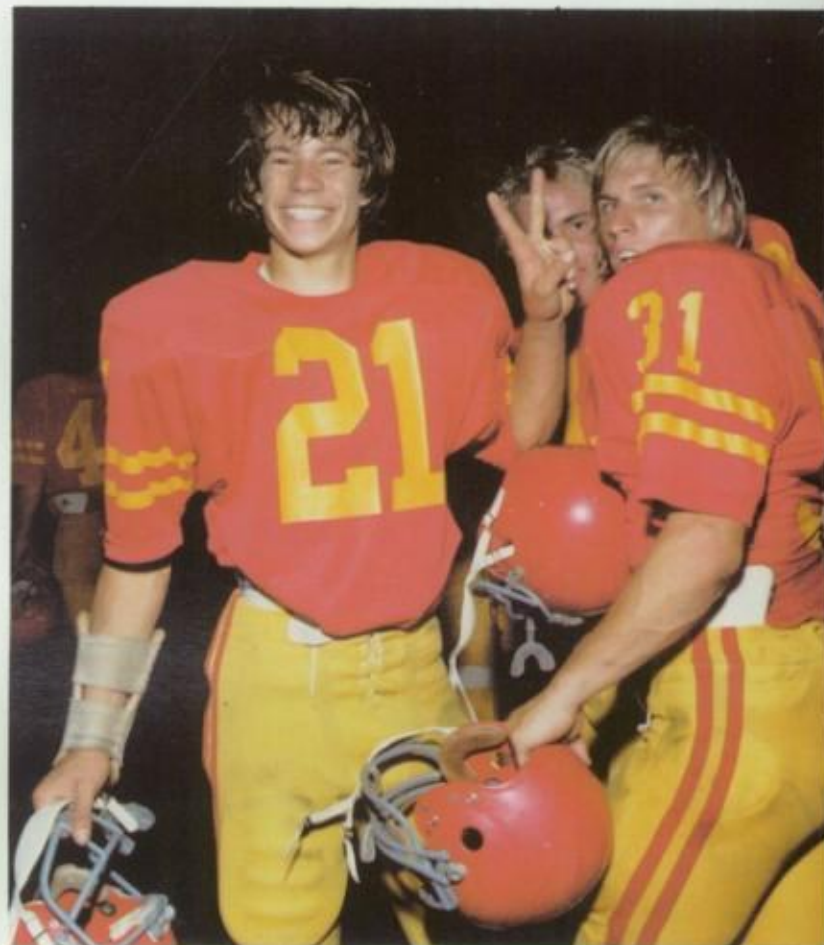

We had a variety of floats for our Homecoming parade. Each class chose an Era for their theme. The Freshmen chose the fifties as their theme. The Sophomores chose the "Space Age" as their theme represented by a future football game. The Juniors chose the "Roman Era" and represented themselves in togas. The Seniors chose the "Stone Age" as their theme, with a caveman beating his woman. The Junior Class float won the float competition. Block "O" took first place in the clubs category with the "Roarin' Twenties."

Other activities included; Painting the downtown windows, Girls' and Boys' Pushball, Spirit Chains (won by the freshmen), Powder Puff (won by the Seniors 12-0), and two very successful dress-up days.

To top it all off the Varsity Football team beat Alcalanes on Friday Night. Everyone who participated in our homecoming had a terrific time, and a special thanks goes to anyone who helped plan and organize homecoming.

Basketball Spiritleaders

The Basketball Cheerleaders and Songleaders had a great season this year. Before their season started they attended a USA camp at Northstar Tahoe. They received many awards, such as: Excellent, and Superior ribbons along with a spirit stick shared between the two squads.

The achievements of spiritleaders that are overlooked are many. They include: many after school practices, cold night practices, fighting the administration for red and gold paint, finding time to smile, and rubbing sore muscles.

Their enthusiasm showed at games as well as rallies through rehearsed dances and perfected cheers. Dedication also shone through during homecoming week with the late nights making posters and the early mornings of taking the players out to breakfast. When the game came there wasn't energy to cheer but, everyone gave it their all.

Dances Swing at O.H.S.

If a club or organization needs to make money, they usually sponsor a dance, they are really good money makers. The yearbook staff sponsored a dance and came out ahead with $800.00.

Attendance usually depends on what kind of music is provided. If the sponsors have enough money to get a band, the dance is usually a success, (that's what the Yearbook Staff did). The Seniors had two independent disc-jockeys come with their equipment, which included, a light show, smoke, and lots of Rock-n-Roll! They made about $600.00 on that dance. All in all the people who attended the after game dances ended up having a good time.

Basketball Homecoming Tames the Wild West and the Spirit Soars

Basketball homecoming week was, as usual, full of fun and excitement this year. The many activities were participated in by a large number of the students, as could be seen on "hat and sunglasses day". That day it seemed that wherever one looked, people wearing strange hats and bizarre shades abounded on the campus. Among the silly events were the donkey basketball game and the tricycle grand prix, but the standout in the frivolous week was probably "opposite-dress-day" when many female OHS students dressed like males and vice versa.

The homecoming queen and princess contest was, as always, a high point in Homecoming week. The finalists in the queen contest were Laina Corder, Joy Wright, Cheryl Follett, Cindy Rivera, and Setsuko Watanabe. The finalists in the princess contest were Jenny Corder, Jennifer Nixon, and Realeen Parks. Realeen Parks was Homecoming princess, and Cindy Rivera captured Homecoming queen.

Cindy Rivera reigned over the basketball homecoming game as Homecoming Queen. Seventeen girls were nominated for the spot. These girls were all presented at the Queen Coronation Assembly put on for the Student Body to choose five finalists. The five lucky girls were: Cheryl Follett, Joy Wright, Laina Corder, Setsuko Watanabe and, of course, Cindy Rivera. Cindy was crowned as Queen between the Sophomore and Varsity games.

Superintendent Irvine, School Board, Seek Quality Education

Oakdale High School could not run as smoothly as it does without Roger Irvine, the District Office and the school board. The goals of these people is to improve the system by which we are educated. Roger Irvine and the people in the District Office are in charge of Oakdale, Riverbank and East Stanislaus schools. All of the decisions made by these people will affect us, either directly or indirectly.

Also helping with the decisions that govern us, is the School Board. The School Board, for example, helped make the decision to raise the graduation requirements starting with the class of '83. This decision was made to improve the quality of education in this area. We thank them for the outstanding job they've done.

They Run the School!

The core at any high school lies in the administrative offices. Seeing to it that students re-admits and absence excuses match are attendance personnel Barbra McCoy, Sharie Cordeiro and Karen Green.

The business office personnel make up our statistical and financial crew. Receiving messages, visitors and substitutes, counting money and even counting plastic covers keep Jackie Hammond, Josie Ott, Linda Green and Donna Murray busy.

A new school year brought a new Vice-Principal to OHS. Joining Ian Kirkpatrick as Principal and Greg Clark as Vice-Principal was Robert Carter, formerly of Sunnyvale High School. Mr. Carter has enjoyed his first year here and agrees with Mr. Clark that the most fun and exciting part of their job is walking around campus and meeting students.

OHS Music Dept.

Without Mr. Robert Dahlin, the music department at OHS would not exist. He single handedly directs the entire diverse department, teaching band, guitar, music theory and choir. He also directs the musicals that OHS performs each year.

Mr. "D" has been keeping the music department going for 14 years. He puts in many hard-working hours directing football half-times, band rehearsals and producing the musical.

Building a Future

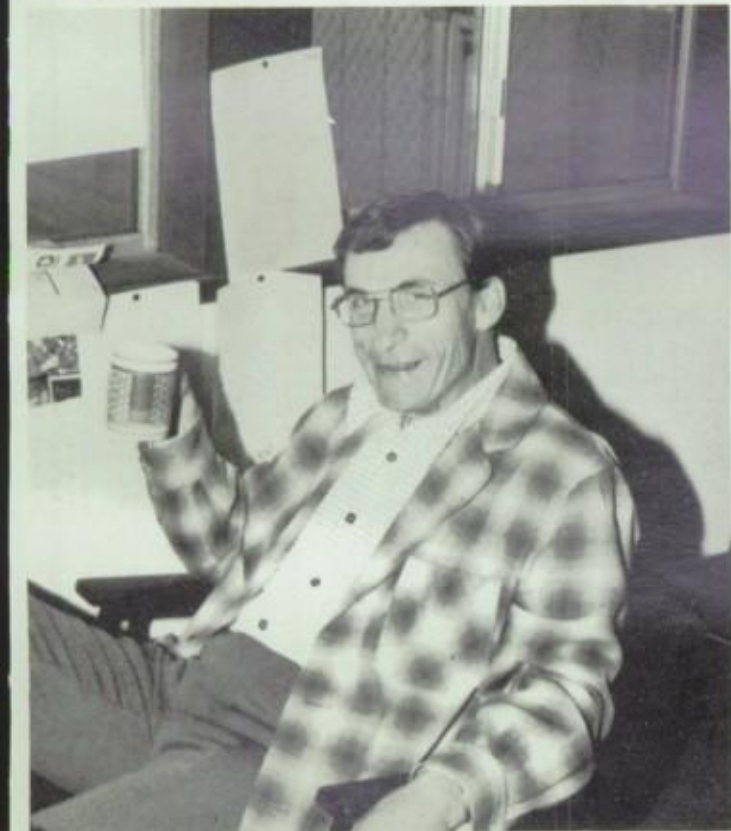

Work Experience is a program for young students interested in working and learning in the field of their chosen profession. The students are granted credits for being a part of the program, as well as earning a reasonable pay check for use in continuing their education or to spend as they like.

The head of the Work Experience program is Mr. Hutchison, who is dedicated to helping students find jobs and to establishing themselves in a profession. He is assisted by Mrs. Feichter who also helps students in choosing a profession.

Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Thrasher run the most important building at OHS. Students use the library for research, studying, or just a place to sit and relax.

Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Thrasher keep the library clean, quiet, and organized. They handle passing out textbooks, books that are read for pleasure, and magazines; but they're never too busy to answer students' or teachers' questions.

They Work So O.H.S. Can Work

The janitorial staff at OHS works very hard to keep the school clean and in working order. They come to mop up when the Spanish class is flooded by rain, and they help to keep the campus free of litter. Thanks to our dedicated janitors there is an abundance of greenery blooming and thriving all over the campus.

Without the bus drivers a large portion of our student population would have no way to get to school. The bus drivers transport students in spite of rain, fog, and other complications such as flat tires. They are a dedicated staff, and we appreciate their work.

The Industrial Education department helps to prepare students for careers in engineering and various other industrial occupations. The courses offered include: Electronics, Woodworking, Mechanical Drawing, Architectural Drawing, and Auto Mechanics.

Who's Behind All Those Numbers and Microscopes?

We are very proud of our Science and Math Departments, its facilities, and its curriculum. We have a new addition to our math department this year — Donna Hoagan. Other math teachers are Ned Jones, Jim McMahon, Allen Violini, Rick Jones and David Bachigalupi. These teachers offer courses from Math Lab all the way to Calculus/Trigonometry.

Allen Violini also doubles as a Science teacher along with Dan Thrasher, Lori Kramer, Hank Eithier, Evelyn Hendrix, and Norm Antinetti. These teachers also offer a wide variety of science courses; from Life Science to Physics.

Special Ed and Child Care Encourage Learning

Special Education is just one of the important aspects of OHS. This department strives to help its students achieve better learning skills.

The department consists of seven teachers: Mr. Gilbert, Mrs. Howland, Mrs. Torrealba, Mrs. Neubaum, Mrs. Arant, Mrs. Orlando and Ms. Muncey, all of whom are dedicated to helping their students grow in knowledge. These people also try to teach their students self-discipline, respect for others as well as for themselves, and a better understanding of the various subjects they are taught.

Child Care, an interesting part of our school, is taught by Debbie Varner. Ms. Varner and her students teach and learn from small children who come from all over Oakdale.

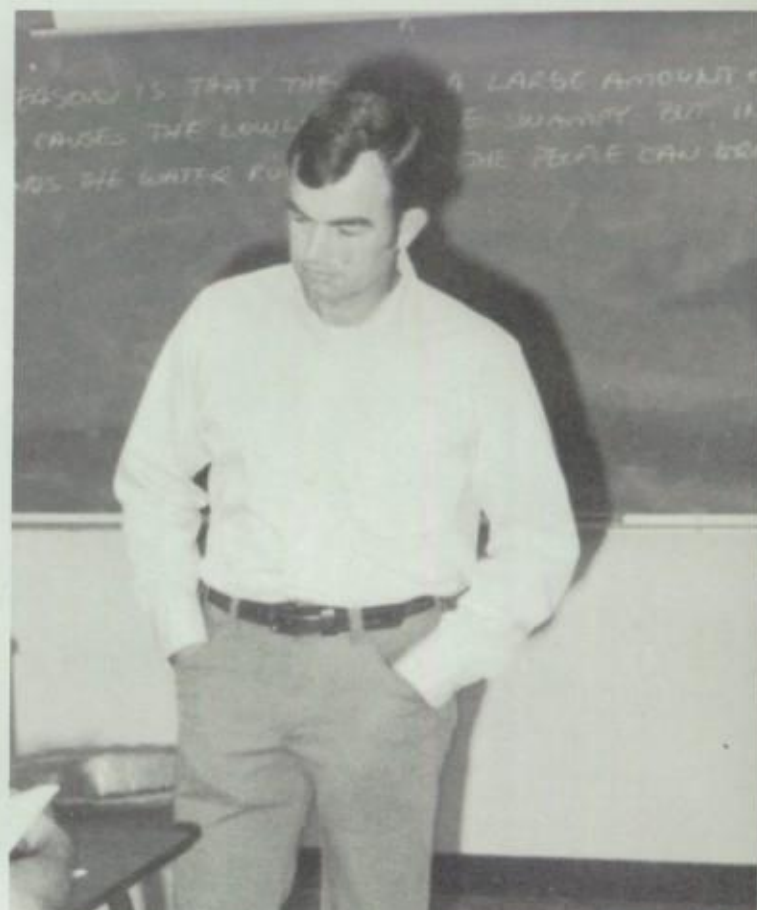

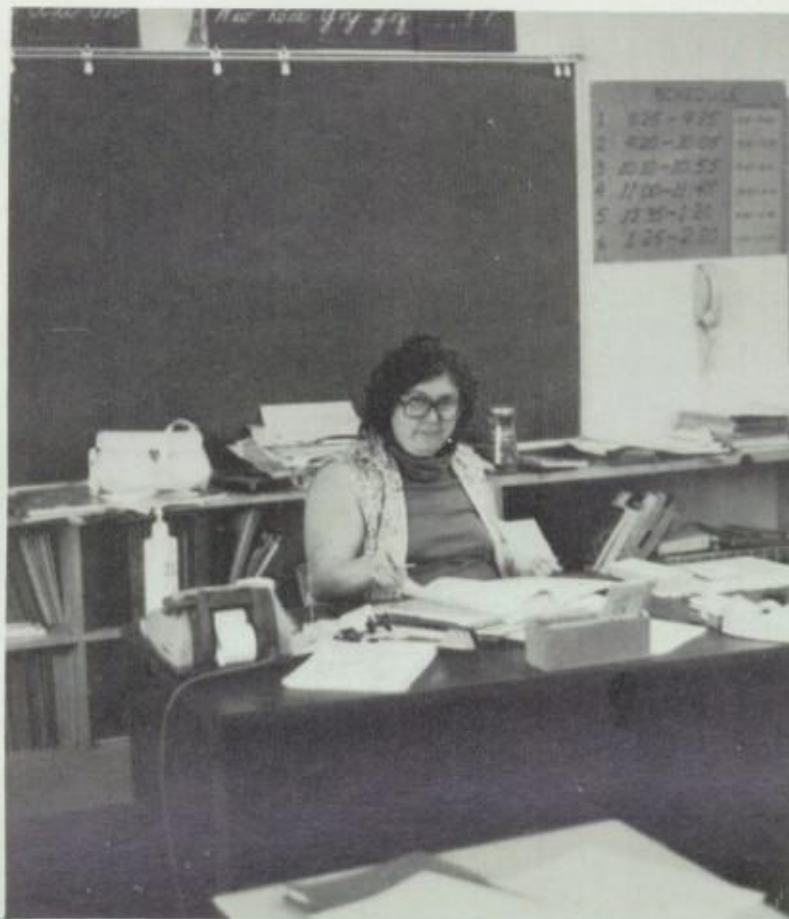

The OHS students who are involved in this class have the opportunity to learn first-hand what it is like to deal with small children. They learn how much fun one can have with a child and they also learn that kids have their drawbacks, too.

However, on the whole, Ms. Varner, her students, and the children have a good time. They introduce the children to many activities such as playing with play-dough, painting, putting together puzzles, and outdoor activities.

What's for Dinner?

The new look of Home Economics.

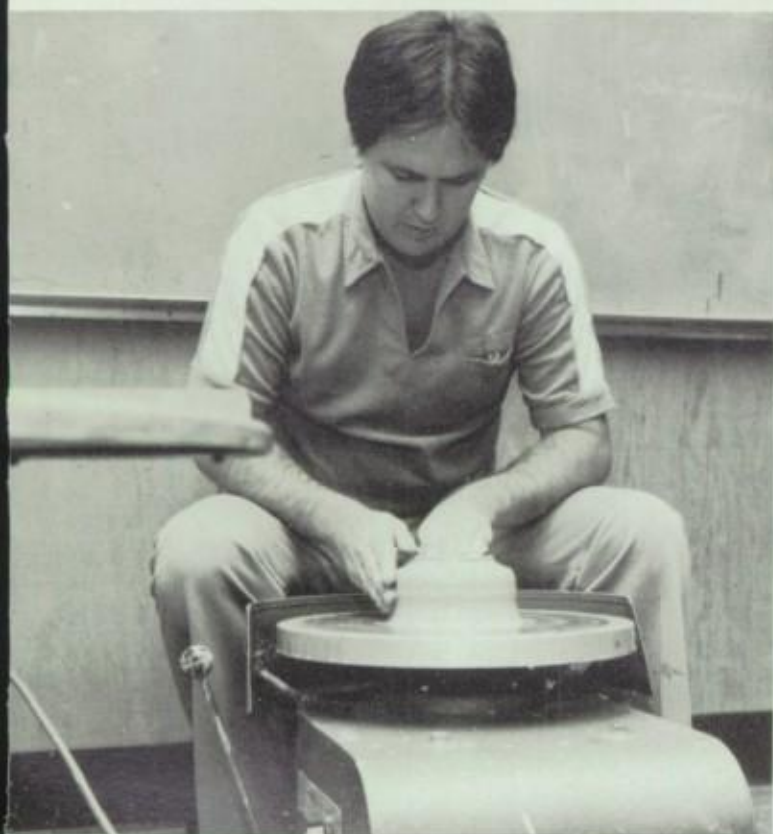

In the years past Home Ec. was thought of as mainly cooking and sewing. This year we dug a little further and found out exactly what Homemaking is all about.

The courses offered range anywhere from Consumer Ed., Family Relations, and Planned Parenthood to careers in Homemaking, which includes Home Furnishing, Foods & Nutrition, & Clothing.

This year we also found out Home Economics isn't just a girls' class anymore. So watch out girls, the guys are movin' in.

Creativity in the Art Department

The art department at OHS offers students many opportunities to vent their creative energies with three teachers such as Mrs. Langton, Mrs. Kramer and Mr. Stringer, at work the students can hardly fail to become proficient at the various subjects they are being taught.

These subjects include drawing, painting, macrame, pottery, and art survey. Along with teaching students to create beautiful objects, the art department stages an art show each year. This gives the students a chance to be rewarded for their creative efforts.

Learning the Ways of the Business World

The business department is an important part of OHS. Some students need to become familiar with the basics while others will become future business people. Many students of the OHS business department have benefited from the excellent instruction they've received from our committee staff. The staff included four teachers: Ms. Foreman, Mrs. Glenn, Mr. Greaves, and Mr. Cousins. They are dedicated to teaching their students the essentials of business so that they will be properly equipped to become successes in the business field.

The business department classes offer OHS students an adequate variety and include: Typing, Business Machines, Introduction to Business and Basic Business, Bookkeeping and Shorthand.

Agriculture Department

Agriculture plays a major role in the Stanislaus district. Just a drive through this area reveals an abundance of dairies, beef ranches, rice farms, and walnut and almond orchards.

Consequently, Oakdale's agricultural department covers a wide variety of subjects. A few of them are as follows: animal science, fruit and plant sciences, forestry and conservation. The agricultural department affords Oakdale students the opportunity to gain the knowledge that will enable them to carry on the agricultural tradition of this area.

The teachers who provide such a wealth of agricultural information are: Mr. Hendricks, animal science and crop science, along with forestry and conservation; Mr. Ross, ag mechanics, and Mrs. Hendrix, animal sciences.

History in Action

Social Studies is the study of human involvements, relationships, and the interactions of people. It is also the study of everything about human beings. The ways in which people interact differ in each country, and in smaller ways, even differ within our own country.

Our social studies department covers everything from the various cultures of the world to the workings of the American political and judicial systems. Our social studies teachers are Don Osman, civics; Bob Hake, California History; Visco Grgich, Drivers Education; Don Viss, U.S. History; Mike Riley, World Cultures; and John Quaccia, Geography. Even given such a wide variety of subjects, our social science teachers have similar goals.

This year's Junior class was an involved one. Starting out right in the middle of the Homecoming activities, they took first in the class float competition and second in the spirit chains. Even though the Juniors lost the powderpuff game and there were a few unhappy faces, their spirit didn't die.

The thought "There is always next year," brightened them up again. Their next activity was entering a turkey in the "Turkey Tech" race. They were also very involved in the basketball homecoming activities.

The majority of the varsity pep squad members this year were Juniors, which shows that they must have some spirit towards Oakdale High.

Other activities that involved Juniors were the election of the new Asilomar delegates and the Boys' and Girls' State Delegates.

There were also many future leaders in the class of '82. You can tell by the turn out of candidates for class office. Those who were elected were: President Alan Berendson; Vice-President, Becky Wright; and Secretary, Anne McKeon.

The Junior year is a hard year for most people, but it is also an exciting one. You've outgrown the excuse of doing dumb stunts because you are an underclassman and you can't say "Well I'm a senior, I can do what I please." The exciting part of it, though, is becoming an upperclassman and a varsity competitor in sports. It also means being sixteen, self-sufficient, and able to drive. Along with this, though, is the responsibility of growing up and setting an example for the freshmen and sophomores.

Throwing your new-found power around with the underclassmen is probably the best part of being a Junior.

Learning to Speak Español or Just Perfecting Your English

"Como se llama?"
"Me llamo Suzie."

These are usually the first phrases Spanish I students learn, and as you've probably guessed, in English they mean "What is your name?" and "My name is Suzie."

Mrs. Wood has been teaching at Oakdale for seventeen years, and said she had more students this year than ever before, but also that her classes this year were very excellent in spite of the size of the classes.

While some students are learning a new language, others are perfecting their English with a little help from the English Dept. This year we had a new addition to the English Dept. with a period set aside for drama. Drama teacher, Mr. Oksen, decided to darken his room with a little black paint in setting the atmosphere for the theater. English I, II, and III, classes are basic English skills while Literature is learning the history of writing and composition the actual writing. Seniors Honors English offers seniors a chance to encounter new ideas and challenge the old ones.

Girls' P.E.

Girls at Oakdale High School have the opportunity to learn various sports and activities, thanks to Anita Jackson and Kathy Smith. The sports that the girls are taught are: archery, badminton, tennis, softball, field hockey, speed-a-way, soccer, volleyball, tumbling and dance.

Both teachers are experienced in teaching Physical Education and Interscholastic sports. Mrs. Smith has coached the girls' gymnastics team while Mrs. Jackson has coached the badminton team. Both of these teachers are well-liked and do an excellent job of teaching.

Workin' Out

The boys' physical education classes consist of many sports such as Football, Badminton, Volleyball, Basketball, and Weightlifting.

Trying a new idea, the coed physical education classes proved to be well worth the effort. Jack Walker served not only as athletic director, but also as varsity football coach. Dale Clipper served as boys' freshmen football coach. Both men were experienced P.E. teachers.

Need Help?

If you do need help with classes or even personal problems there's always somewhere to turn, to your counselor. The three counselors have had to work extra hard to make up for the lack of a fourth counselor this year.

The Senior counselor, Farrell Reeves, has had a difficult time because of the new requirements put on the Seniors. All of the counselors had their classes plus one third of the freshmen class. The newest counselor on staff is the Junior counselor, Betty Seimas. A dearly loved man is the Sophomore counselor, Neil Weichart. The counselors have had to deal with many new rules and regulations in the school. They are doing an excellent job of keeping everything organized.

The sports program here at Oakdale High gets stronger each year. Oakdale competes in the Valley Oak League, which consists of seven different schools. The Valley Oak League, this year, welcomed Livingston High and Los Banos women athletes. The other schools in the league are: Sonora, East Union, Manteca, and Ceres.

Oakdale has two men's sports and four women's sports in the fall. The boys have the choice between Football and Cross Country. Football is perhaps the most popular sport at Oakdale High, while Cross Country is quickly building itself up. Women's gymnastics is the most established Fall sport. Cross country is only in its second year for women but they are being recognized throughout the state.

Also, women's volleyball is becoming a very prestigious sport at Oakdale High. While, Women's tennis is the most financially neglected sport, but despite this, the team's still here!

There are less sports during the Winter, there are two Men's sports and One Women's. The most popular Men's sport would be basketball, while girl's Basketball gets few spectators. One of the demanding sports is probably the least understood, this sport is wrestling.

While boys' Basketball seems to slightly diminish in popularity, the girls' basketball is starting to pick up a little.

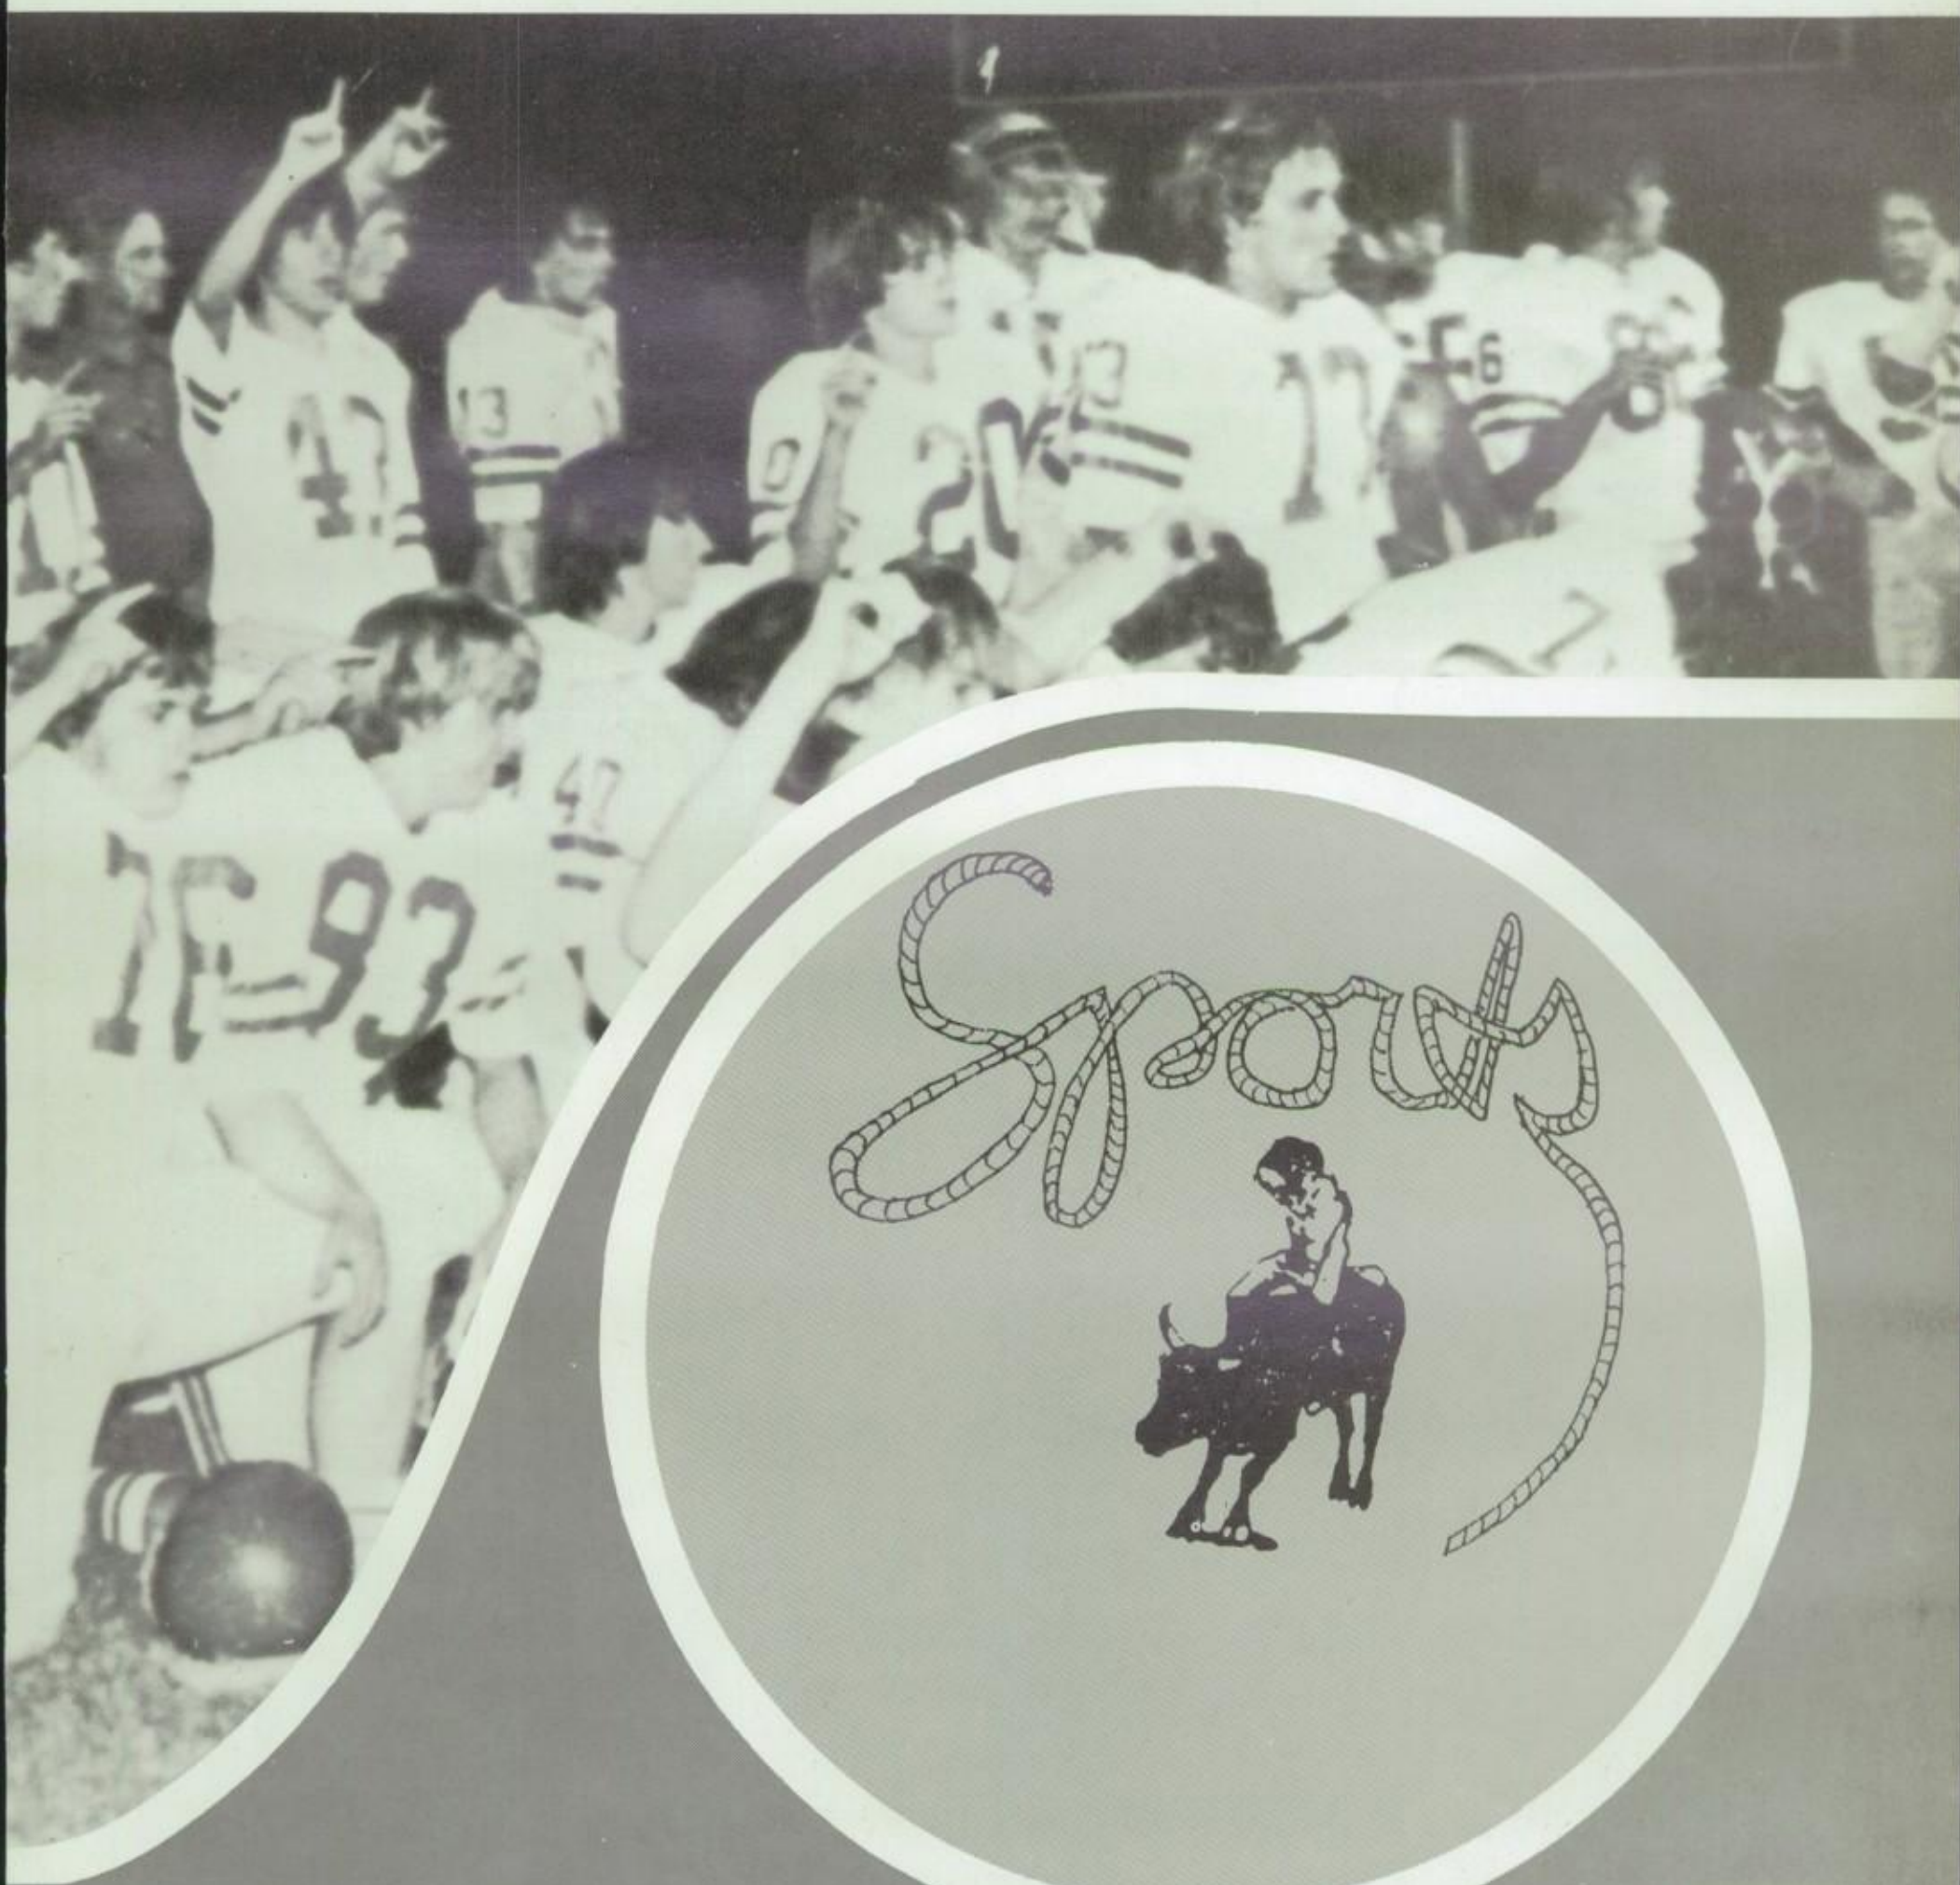

More athletes go out for the spring sports than any other season. Athletes are seen running in the warm, sunny weather. Boys are able to participate in three sports while women have the choice between two.

The most established sport in the spring would be women's badminton, they've been champions every time there's been a team. Men's and Women's track is the most versatile sport of the whole year. Oakdale's Baseball teams are rapidly growing to be a league hopeful every year.

Oakdale's League rival is Sonora, who they love to beat and hate to lose to. The rivalry has become so strong that Oakdale works twice as hard to beat them, then they would with any other team. This year, Oakdale has captured for over it's share of league championships, so they are clearly the Valley Oak League's most valuable school!

We're Champs Again!

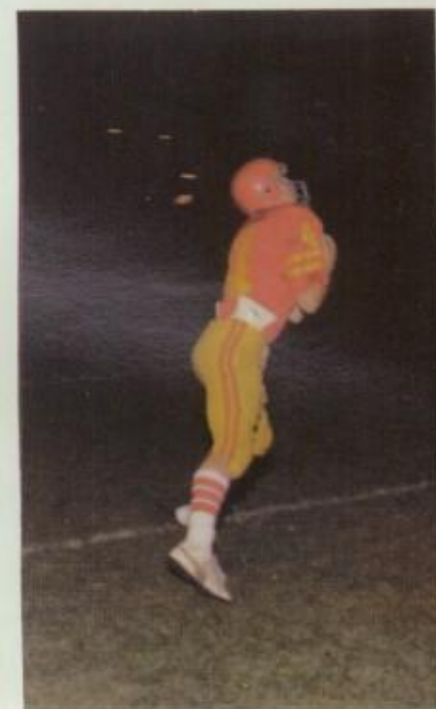

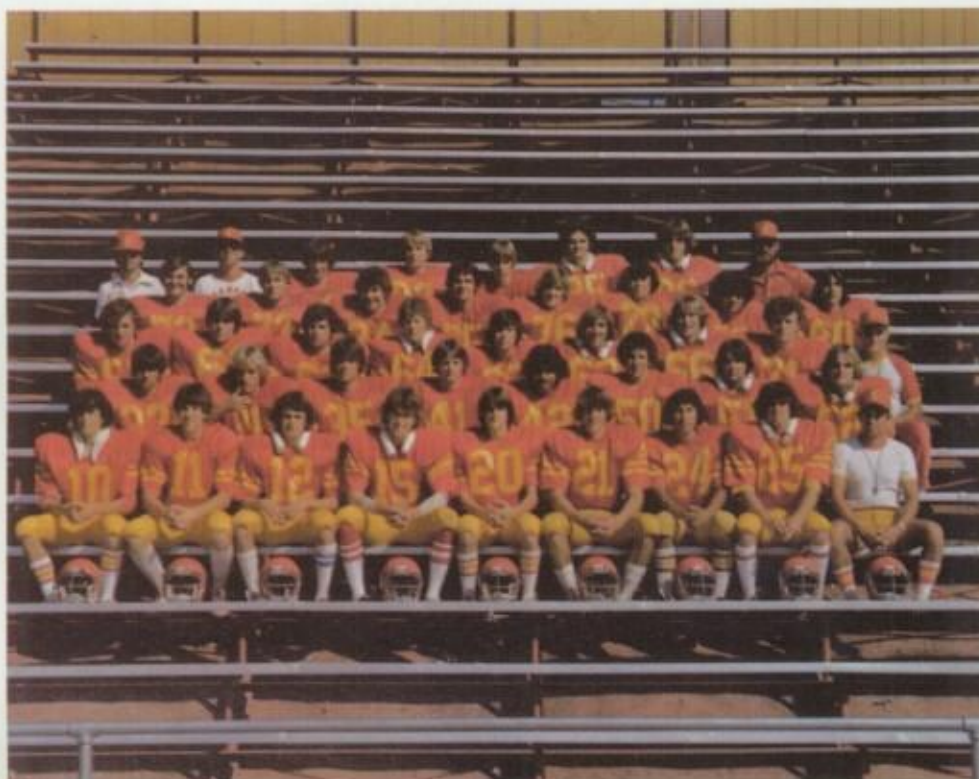

For the second consecutive year, Oakdale has claimed the Valley Oak League championship. With very few returning seniors, the team was considered the leagues darkhorse. With an aggressive running game, Oakdale pounded out yards from the opposing teams. The defense held their opponents to few yards, and a minimum amount of touchdowns.

With last year's coach retired, the team lacked coaching experience and Oakdale's new head coach Jim Gilbert was named VOL Coach of the Year. There were 3 other excellent coaches: John Quaccia, Jack Walker, and Dan Langford, who are not to go unrecognized.

Oakdale was tied with Manteca, (whom they beat in league play) so they both advanced to Sub-Sections. Oakdale was matched up with Pondersa, who had a 32 game winning streak. Oakdale put up a good battle, but ended up losing because of a few key errors 14-13.

With their hard-hitting the freshmen captured the title of Valley Oak League champions. Coach Dale Clipper taught his team to be one of the best offensively in league, but the defense was never to be underestimated.

With a final record of 5-1, Oakdale proved itself to be an aggressive contender for the next few years. Oakdale had one of the biggest offensive and defensive lines in the area, shoving their opponents all over the field.

Sophomores Give It Their All!

Oakdale's Sophomore team suffered drastically from a lack of participation. The ones who did decide to go out for the team benefited from the coaching of Greg Anderson, Steve Cooper, and Mike Riley. Oakdale gave away quite a few tough loses, ones that were very close. At other times the team suffered large loses from over-exhaustion.

When the athletes move up, they will be in contention for the Valley Oak League title, but for now they just have to chalk this one up for experience.

In Your Face!

This year's motto for the volleyball team was a blunt one, but one they tried to fulfill. In Your Face refers to spiking the ball hard over to the other team. Although the teams record wasn't all that impressive, Coach Sandy delaPorte's efforts caused the team to improve immensely.

Oakdale was aggressive and they could honestly say they were in every game. Oakdale ran one of the most complicated offenses in VOL, and they ran it well. Every player on the team played well, and gave the sport 100%. The improvement of the team can only be accredited to Coach delaPorte.

Bump It, Set It, Hit It!

These 3 familiar words are frequently used during a volleyball match. This year's Junior Varsity team was one of the best in the history of Oakdale High. Their final league record was 6-4, and every game they lost was a close one.

With only 1 returning player, Coach Cecilia Oliviera had her work ahead. The turnout for the team was a large one, so she had good talent to work with. With the improvement these girls have shown, they should be a dominating force in league for a few years.

X-Country Grinds Out the Distance

Dedication is the only word you can use to describe this group of athletes. These young men ran for miles in the hot, arid sun, day after day, without complaining. Coach Larry Lee encouraged these boys to give their all when practicing as well as competing.

Cross Country is an individual sport, but with combined scores it becomes a team sport. Running in the rain is just one of the many physical forces the runners must combat. Winning is hard, but when they do, it gives them a feeling of personal gratification. The program is slowly building, but, none-the-less building.

Gymnastics

Win V.O.L. Title

Headed by Coach Kathy Smith, the 1980 Oakdale Gymnastics team galloped their way to victory.

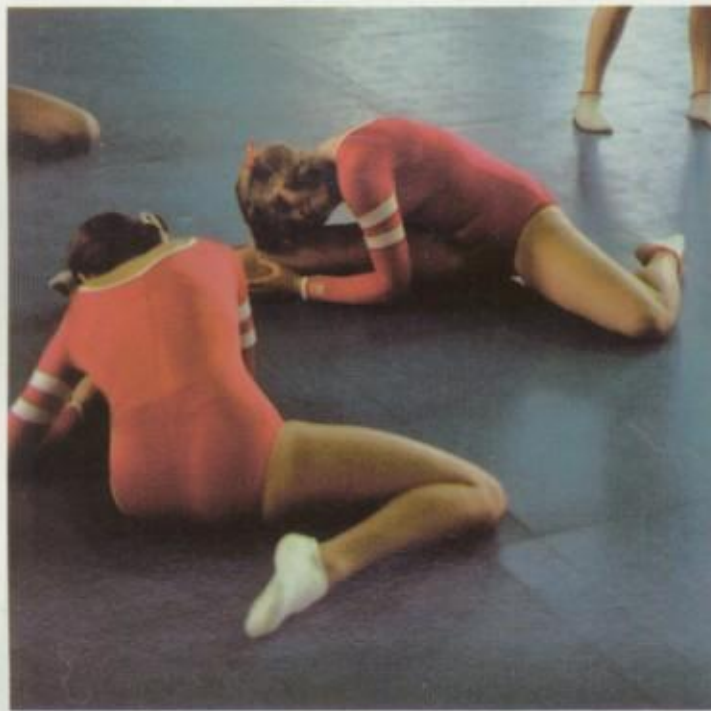

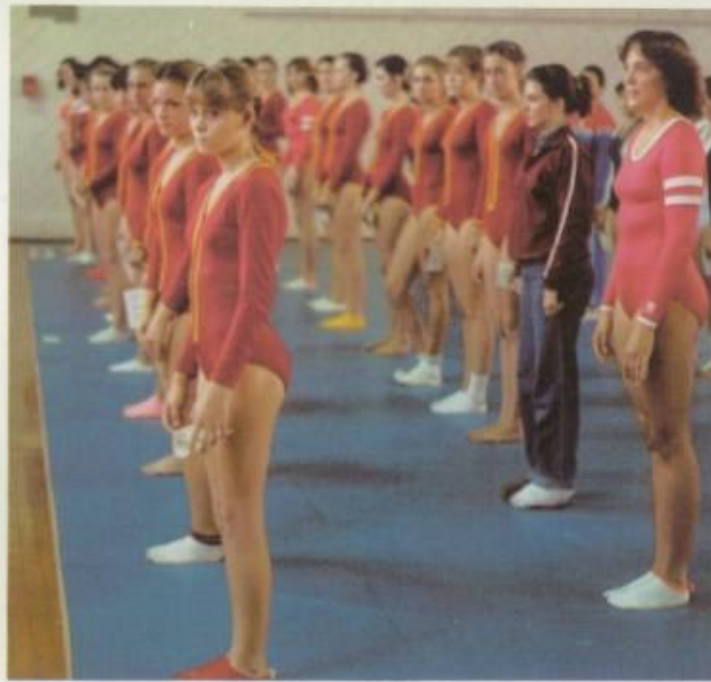

Going undefeated and consisting of only three members the Varsity team proved to be very successful. The three members, Cheryl Follett, Cheryl Hofmann and Colleen Hawks were met by their toughest competitors three times and proceeded to keep up their winning streak. With the judges taking only the top three scores of each team, and having most teams consist of at least six competitors, Oakdale having their three members and going on to victory makes their task an even greater accomplishment. In the All V.O.L. Compulsory meet, the All-Around Awards went to Cheryl Follett with a first, Colleen Hawks with a second, and Cheryl Hofmann with a sixth.

The junior varsity had a tougher season. They were met by Sonora, who eased over them twice. At the All V.O.L. Optional meet at Manteca, however, the Oakdale Gymnasts chalked up a victory. This win was a well deserved one.

The novice team did very well, too. Failing to get a win over Sonora, they beat all the other league teams.

Netters Take Third

Charles Hutchison, coach of the girl's tennis team, described his girls as being dedicated, hard working, and spirited.

The competition in VOL was extremely tight this year. Oakdale ended up in a 4-way tie for third place, with Sonora and Manteca claiming the championship, Oakdale's final league record was 3-9, beating Livingston twice and Los Banos once.

The Most Improved Player award was presented to Sophomore Shelly Edwards. This was Shelly's first year and she came out third in league.

Jackie Lamatis was named Most Valuable Singles player and Shelly Ichord was named Most Valuable Doubles Player. The Most Inspirational award went to Laina Corder and the over-all Most Valuable Player award went to Darcy Nixon.

The girls on the team showed tremendous spirit throughout the season. There were some wins and some losses but we're very proud of our Girl's Tennis team.

JV Grapplers Wrestle to A VOL Victory

This year the J.V. wrestling team did an outstanding job. Their VOL record was 5-0-1 and they tied Sonora 29-29 for first place. The J.V. team was led by outstanding wrestlers, Mark Thompson, Brian Dickens, Ron Helms, and Randy Avant. They were coached by Mike Riley who did an excellent job with his J.V. team. The J.V. grapplers continued to show their strength throughout the season. At the VOL tournament, the J.V.'s took first place to end the season on a winning note.

Grapplers Wrestle to a Victory!

This year's Varsity Wrestling team muscled their way to some outstanding wins. With three outstanding senior wrestlers: John Nash, Jerry Hedden and Eric Tisher, Oakdale advanced to the sections.

A wrestler's dedication is far superior to that of most athletes. They must stay down to a certain weight; often shaving their heads to lose their last few ounces.

Coach Wingo has developed his wrestlers, with the benefit of his experience, into outstanding and disciplined wrestlers. During a match, you can see Wingo on his hands and knees banging on the mat encouraging his wrestlers to a victory.

Youth Gains Experience.

Plagued by a lack of exaperience and a lack of height, the Oakdale Girl's Basketball team had a difficult season. With only two returning seniors, Coach Sam Perez had to move up three Freshmen and two Sophomores.

Unfortunately, the Varsity team didn't have enough height to crash the boards for rebounds. On the other hand, Oakdale had some extremely fast girls and was able to out-run their opponents.

The Junior Varsity girls' team was affected by the loss of five of their best players because they were moved up to Varsity. Fouls troubled the team all season. The excitement of the game caused the players to get over zealous and foul their opponents. The J.V. team, like the Varsity, had speed but they also lacked height.

Coach Perez hopes with the experience that the younger girls received this ye, Oakdale will be a major factor in league play for the next four years.

Minor Losses Cause Heart- Breaking Season

Oakdale's Varsity basketball team was plagued by close losses this year. Rarely losing by more than ten points, all of the games were exciting and spirited. Ending the season in fourth place, our team had a heart breaking season.

Coach Norm Antinetti had a lot of training to do, with only two returning seniors. The team relied on the excellent playing ability of the juniors, they were the backbone of the team. Seniors Tim Bryant and Shawn Caris spearheaded the team and gave the necessary leadership.

This year's team had a rough season, but they gave one-hundred percent both mentally and physically and they deserve our respect.

Ponies: A Lesson in Determination

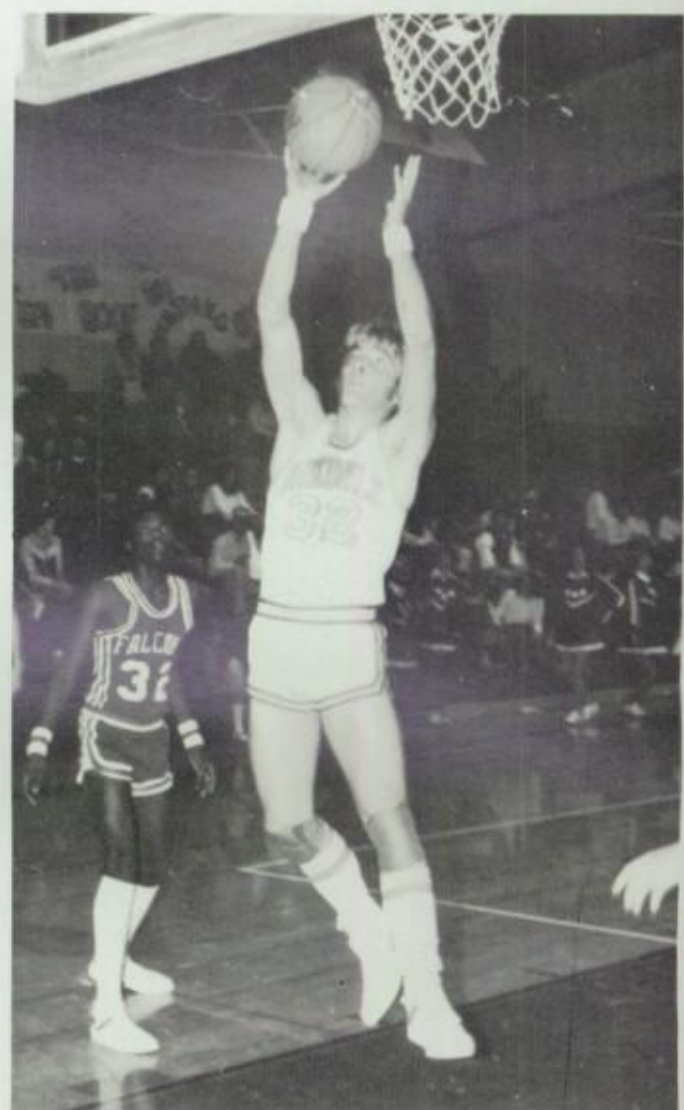

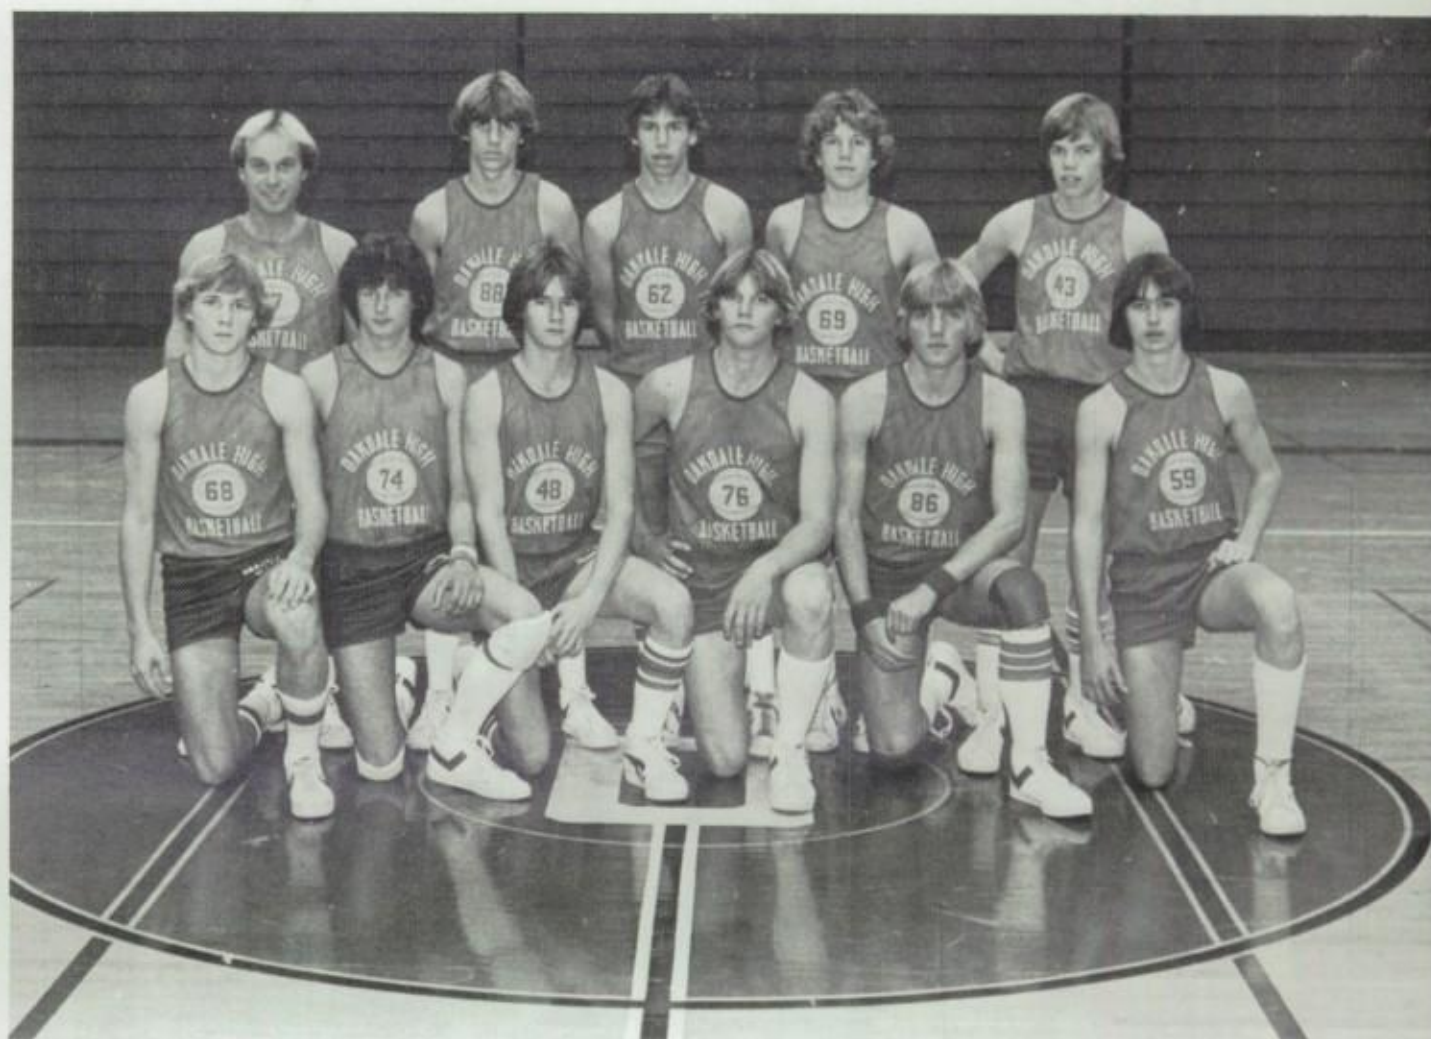

Fred Luchessa, enthusiastic colts coach, contributed greatly to their spirit this year. The vociferous coach urged his team on to many victories while the team's strong offense and defense insured the defeat of their opponents.

While winning comes easier for some, Frosh Coach Jim Greaves knows his ponies played some hard games and had some hard luck this year, but he can be proud of them just the same. The ponies displayed their phenomenal grit in many tense overtime games when that elusive win was just a few points away. Although wins remained hard to come by for the ponies, they returned each time with the same amount of determination and spirit, giving their all and giving the crowd an exciting game.

Birdie Girls' Have a Great Season

Oakdale High's badminton team has to live up to Oakdale's tradition of excellence. Oakdale has captured the VOL championship for the last nine years, and has sent many players to the San Joaquin Sections.

With only two returning Varsity players, Shelly Ichord and Terri McDonald, the back bone of the team comes from a strong group of Juniors and one sophomore. The Junior Varsity team, as always, had an extremely large turn out this year. Coach Anita Jackson decided to carry a large squad this year.

To get ready for their tough May schedule, the badminton team had to practice at night during the entire month of February. Coach Jackson deserves a special thanks for staying at school from eight in the morning until eight at night. For the tenth consecutive year we congratulate the girl's badminton team.

Hoping to Have Another Winner

The Varsity Baseball team should have an outstanding team this year, coming off two championship teams in the last two years and taking runners up in the class AA section playoffs. This year in the V.O.L., the teams to beat should be Manteca and Ceres. They're usually always tough with good pitching on both teams. Returning starters for Oakdale this year are Tim Bryant and Mark Dickens. This Year's team is a young team with mostly juniors playing, but should be a good hitting team with balanced pitching.

Soph Batters Hit Hard

The Sophomore baseball team of 1981 should be a very competitive team. Last year as a freshman team, they took first place in league, so they should be the team to beat this year. They are coached by Fred Luchessa. Coach Luchessa has coached one year of baseball at Oakdale and his team last year was very productive, even though plainly fourth in league.

This year the team will have some outstanding pitching and some big sticks that should help the team.

Aiming for Another Vol Championship

The freshman coach this year was Greg Anderson, who has coached the freshman for the last two years. In that time, they have taken the championship, and this year's team should be very good and could take the championship again. To keep the championship in Oakdale, the freshman are going to have to get by some tough competition. Manteca, Ceres and newcomer to the league, Livingston, previously from the T.V.L., are always tough in baseball no matter who they play. Because of our early publication date, we were unable to obtain a group shot.

You Don't Have To Be Fast to Be on the Track Team

The Oakdale boys' track team hosts all types of athletes, fast and slow, big and small. There are many different events held, such as: sprints, hurdles, relays, long-distance, short-distance, jumps, shot-put, and discus.

The group is broken up into teams of freshman, sophomore and varsity. The team receive points for each event a member wins, and whichever team has the largest combined score at the end of the meet, is the winner. We hope the team has a good season and comes out on top of V.O.L.!

Lady Mustangs Charge Ahead

Coming from a history of broken records, high accomplishments, and great attitudes, the Oakdale High School Girls' Track team reached high in their quest for victory. Headed by coach Larry Lee, the Oakdale Lady Mustangs sprinted, jogged, jumped, and hurdled their way into the spirit of Oakdale High. The team was well represented by each class and each had those who shined. Heading the hurdlers, high jump, and long jump were seniors Cheryl Follett and Pam Snider. Junior Lynnai Pitte; excelled in shot put and discuss. Long distance and sprinters for the sophomores were Donna Snider, Lori Bibbins, and Raeleen Parks. The newest addition to the team this year was freshman runner Mary Lynn Wrye. Other track stars, members, and coaches, help make the Oakdale High School Lady Mustangs Track team what it is today and what it always will be!

"Life is short,
Art is long . . ."

Al Jericoff, OHS art teacher and department head, was a talented artist himself. His memory lives through his art work.

Remember me when I am gone away,
When you can no more hold me by the hand,
Nor I half turn to go, yet turning stay.
Remember me . . .
Yet if you should forget me for awhile
And afterwards remember, do not grieve;
Better by far you should forget and smile
Than that you should remember and be sad.

The Oakdale High School graduating class of 1981 has experienced many surprises, victories, hardships, and tragedies. In athletics, they have proven to be outstanding. During their entire high school career, the seniors have won seventeen V.O.L. titles. This includes four titles in gymnastics, four championships in badminton, three league titles in football, two league pennants in baseball and four league championship titles in boys' track and field. Not only did the seniors perform well in league sports, but they also won their Powderpuff games as juniors and again as seniors.

Along with the joy came the sorrow, when the class of 1981 mourned the deaths of five of their fellow classmates. The seniors also lost many other classmates during the course of their four years of high school. The class of 1981 had more students drop-out of high school than any other class in the history of Oakdale High.

have the reputation of being a fun loving and spirited class. To each individual senior, and to the class as a whole, the yearbook staff extends wishes for all the best in the years to come.

Editor's Message

When I took the job of editor, I didn't begin to realize all the work it involved. The Oracle staff spent many weekends at school trying to meet their March 6th deadline. Because I can't begin to explain the difficulty involved in making your yearbook, I'll give you one short look at what happened.

Mrs. Hendrick: Terri, could you close the door and take roll?

Terri: Class, please quiet down and listen to me.

Class: Are you going to lecture again?

Mrs. Rocha: Turn that radio down!

Valerie: Isn't Mark cute?

Alicia: Oh, what a babe.

Mark: Shut-up!

Julie: Mrs. Rocha, tell Andrew to get out of the back room, it's starting to smell like Reese's Peanut Butter Cups.

Mrs. Rocha: Shawne, where are you going?

Shawne: Just to get a drink, I swear!

Terri: Who has the basketball layout.

Valerie: Sherri does!

Sherri: Valerie dies!

Shelly: Terri what page is speech on?

Terri: I don't remember, ask Valerie.

Shelly: You don't remember!? You don't even know what you're doing! Why don't you have this entire book memorized!? You should . . . 8! + * / !!

Valerie: It's all Gene's fault, he didn't take the pictures!

Gene: It's all Valerie's fault, she didn't tell me what to take pictures of!

Liisa: Pam, could you write copy for my layout?

Pam: What's your layout on?

Liisa: What layout?

Everyone: Where's the stamp?

Evonna: There's ink all over my pictures.

Mrs. Rocha: Terri, there are 40 pages missing.

Terri: Don't worry, we can make more Autograph pages, and maybe I can do a few more editor's notes.

Gary Donnell, (Yearbook Representative): Well, Terri, how are things rolling along?

Our goals this year was to show Oakdale High as it really was, and if we've brought you just one moment of happiness in recalling these memories, then we've accomplished what we set out to do.

This book is dedicated not only to Mr. Stone, but also to the senior class, who will no longer fill these halls. This is the last record the seniors have of their high school career, and the last record lower classmen have of them. This book concludes our childhood and begins our adulthood, good luck and may God be with you.

I'd like to give a special thanks to:

Mrs. Lorraine Headricks, co-advisor

Mrs. Janice Rocha, co-advisor

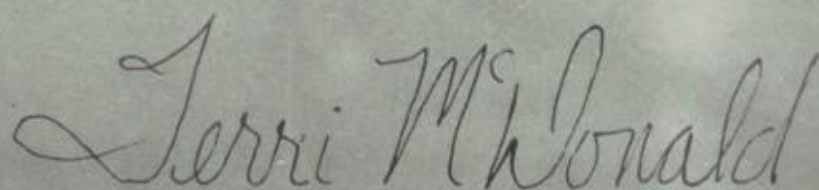

Mr. Gary Donnell of Taylor Publishing Company

Mrs. Mary Ruth Ledbetter of the use of her room

Mr. Richard Welton for his support

Mr. Ian Kirkpatrick for his cooperation

Terri McDonald
Oracle Editor-In-Chief

A Without the cooperation and friendly helpfulness of many patrons around Oakdale, production of the 1981 Oracle would have been severely impaired.

Advertisements play a large role in the making of yearbooks. From the supportive dollars we receive from local businesses, we design and produce a strong yearbook. Without their support, we wouldn't have sufficient funds to produce a worthwhile and memorable yearbook.

We take time here to name the much appreciated businesses that have contributed for ten years to Oakdale High's Oracle. They are as follows: A. L. Gilbert, Co., Bank of America, Gillman's, Haidlen Ford, Harold's, Morrison's Pharmacy, Moss Rose Bakery, Oakdale Auto Parts, Oakdale Memorial Chapel, Oakdale Travel Service, Seven-Up Co., State Farm Insurance, Teter's Wardrobe, Town and Country Market, Town and Country Realty, United California Bank, Walther's Body and Fender Works, Waterford Farm Supply, Windjammer Restaurant and Zimmerman Insurance. We salute you for your sincere patronage and hope in future years you will carry on your goodwill.

With the rapidly increasing expansion of Oakdale and the broadening spectrum of social lives and pastimes, we sometimes forget to think of how it used to be, when Oakdale was but a small, agricultural way-station to Sonora.

Columbia is a good place to remember rough gentility of Oakdale's past. Although it isn't quite as much of an agricultural town as Oakdale, its historical aura a refreshing change of pace from the modern day. We must never forget our ancestors and the society from which we came, for without them we could not be where we are today.

The 1981 yearbook staff extends their thanks to many people for their concern, suggestions, time and help in developing the Oracle. To these, we acknowledge our deep appreciation. Among those, however, are three people that we feel deserve special thanks ... for giving a little more time, for making a little more effort, for going that extra step out of their way.

Thanks to:

Gary Donnell, Taylor Publishing Co. representative, for his diligence, persistence and especially patience with the yearbook staff.

Gary rolled up his shirtsleeves on many a Saturday afternoon, did layouts with us, and, in general, just gave us lots and lots of his knowledge and advice.

His willingness to help and, most of all, his concern for a good OHS yearbook, will always be appreciated.

Donna Murray for all the clerical and statistical assistance that is necessary when producing a yearbook.

Donna always had the ability to remain cool, calm and efficient in spite of our many last-minute requests. We may have forgotten to say thanks then, but we certainly say thanks now.

Kevin Benziger for all his time, talent and energy in securing the ads for our yearbook.

Kevin, a 1980 OHS graduate and former yearbook staff member, came to us and offered his help unselfishly. Using his own car and on his own time, Kevin mustered his salesmanship talents, diligence and tenacity to sell over $4,000 in ads for the Oracle! This money helps tremendously in defraying publishing costs and keeping the price of an Oracle within the range of a high school student.

Again, thank you Gary, Donna and Kevin!
